Introduction

Home to jaw dropping scenery of granite towers, incredible lakes, cascading waterfalls and beautiful glaciers; Patagonia is one of the world's last great wildernesses and peerless as a destination for a South American trekking holiday. Winding its way through the UNESCO protected Torres del Paine National Park, you will find what is considered to be one of the very best treks in the world: the classic 'O Trek'. This is the ultimate adventure, completing a full circumnavigation of the Paine massif. Following trails snaking their way through the majestic landscape, we can hope to spot guanaco, Andean grey fox, condor, deer and even the elusive puma. The adventure starts in El Calafate, gateway to Patagonia, before heading off on the trail whilst staying at incredibly scenic campsites in remote locations. Prepare to be truly awe-inspired, as you trek over the impressive John Gardner Pass, walk up the dramatic Frances Valley and hike along the shores of Lake Nordenskjold. However, the icing on the Patagonian cake is the grand finale as you head up to the base of the famed Paine Towers. If you're looking to trek the very best trails in Patagonia and immerse yourself into the most incredible scenery on the planet, accept no substitute

Is this holiday for you?

During this fantastic trekking holiday, you'll walk an amazing 130kms, which includes exploring the Frances and Ascencio valleys. As you'd expect from one of the world's top 10 treks, there are a couple of long walking days, but the pace is steady and the views more than make up for tired legs! The journey around the Torres del Paine Massif has good trails whilst on the north side of the range, however, when crossing the John Garner Pass there are some sections of rugged pathway, forested terrain and marshland. Getting to this incredibly wild and remote destination involves a long journey, but this is one of the reasons it remains such a special place to visit. We'd recommend arriving a day early in El Calafate and relaxing, so you feel rested and ready for the trek. Please note that WiFi and phone communication in the park is available but this can not be guaranteed.

While trekking you will just need to carry a day pack with a packed lunch and personal items such as spare clothing, waterproofs, wash kit etc. You do not need to carry your own camping gear or sleeping bag, unless you opt to bring your own. If required, porters can be hired at additional cost and carry up to a maximum of 15kg (so this could potentially be shared by 2 people), this needs to be booked in advanced with us.

DAY 1

Meet at the group hotel in El Calafate. A single group airport transfer is included.

Flight Inclusive travellers will take a morning flight from Buenos Aires to El Calafate, having spent the previous night in Buenos Aires.

Meet at the group hotel in El Calafate. A single timed transfer to the group hotel in the town is provided. Please arrive into El Calafate no later than 3pm.

El Calafate is named after the thorny calafate bush which is resident to Southern Patagonia. Flowering in the spring, the bush is a vibrant yellow with purple fruit and the story is that anyone who eats the calafate fruit will return to Patagonia. El Calafate was founded in 1927 but didn't start to grow until the 1940's and today, the town's main attraction is its closeness to the Perito Moreno Glacier. A bustling hive of activity with an alpine resort atmosphere, El Calafate is great for wandering, especially along the main street of Av del Libertador General San Martin, simply known as Libertador. There are a wide range of coffee shops, cafes and restaurants to suit all budgets so if you arrive early there are plenty of places to enjoy a drink and relax. Early evening you'll meet the leader and head out to a local restaurant together. Speak to the KE team if you are arriving early and would like us to book you extra nights in the group hotel or a private airport arrival transfer.

Spectacular transfer from Argentina to Chile's Torres del Paine National Park.

Today after an early breakfast we leave Argentina and cross into Chile as we make our way towards Torres del Paine. After we change vehicles an element of flexibility is needed due to the weather and road conditions plus border crossing. However, the journey to the national park is absolutely superb and a great opportunity to watch the scenery or catch up on 40 winks after your flight to Patagonia. Along the way there are several spectacular views including our first view of the Paine Massif which includes the Cuernos (Horns) and Paine Grande. We will arrive at our campsite for the night, at Central Camping, outside the Refugio where we can use the amenities available.

Start trekking on the Paine Circuit to Seron Camp, taking fantastic trails with views of the Paine Towers.

Today is the official start of the Paine Circuit, as we cover 13kms through amazing scenery. On a clear day we will have accompanying views of the Paine Towers and the summit peak of Almirante Nieto. We will cross ancient glacial moraines and walk through beautiful beech forest, where we may spot the Magellanic woodpecker. Our trek through the foothills of Cerro Paine will lead us through lower grasslands and also give us a chance to observe Austral parakeets, several species of geese and guanaco. We arrive this afternoon to our first picturesque campsite in the National Park at Camp Seron.

Trek to campsite at Lago Dickson with more incredible views.

After an early start, we take an undulating path that winds its way through the foothills of Cerro Paine. We may catch a glimpse of the north-eastern peaks of the Paine Massif including Cabeza del Indio, Escudo, Cubo and Dickson. We continue to follow the Rio Paine to Lago Paine, a turquoise green lake seen by very few visitors. From Lago Paine, we continue to follow the river towards Lago Dickson and, along the way, we'll have spectacular views of the Paine range. As we start our approach to the camp, we'll see distant glaciers flowing into Lago Dickson. On reaching the southern end of Dickson Lake, we set up camp close to Refugio Dickson, where there are great views over parts of the South Patagonia Ice field. Dickson is equipped with a small store, café and hot showers which we can make use of. The refuge also has a small restaurant where we'll have dinner. The cosy and welcoming lounge area is a good place to meet other travellers and share stories. You can also stock up on snacks such as chocolate or cereal bars for the next day if you so wish.

DAY 5

Trek to Los Perros through lush forest whilst on the look out for woodpeckers and parakeets.

Today is an easier and slightly shorter day on the trail, as we make our way to Los Perros. Initially, we follow the Los Perros River as our route winds through the beech trees of the Magellanic forest. Lying to the west of the Andes Mountains and finishing at the archipelago of Tierra del Fuego, the forest is home to the Magellanic woodpecker, the largest of woodpeckers in South America and one of the largest species in the world. They are easy to recognise with their pure black colouring, complete with a white wing patch and a grey chisel like beak. At the end of today's walk, we pass close to Laguna Los Perros into which the Los Perros Glacier flows. Tonight, we camp at Los Perros Camp, located in the forest at 550m and one of the most remote camping locations in the park. It is a must stay location for anyone on the Paine Circuit and, although facilities are basic, the camp has a lovely location and is close to the start of the John Gardner Pass. There is a small shop where snacks can be purchased and dinner will be prepared in a simple cooking area. With tomorrow's early start, most people will be tucked up in their tents after dinner in preparation for the John Gardner Pass adventure.

A superb day heading over the magnificent John Garner Pass.

Today is an early start as we set off on the most challenging day of the circuit and a genuine holiday highlight, the crossing of the John Gardner Pass. Although not high, this incredible part of the trail can take you through all four weather seasons in a few hours and is named after the British mountaineer John Garner. Setting off in 1976 John Garnder, along with two park rangers: Pepe Alarcon, and Oscar Guineo, pioneered the Paine Circuit and the pass was named in his honour. Crossing it is an iconic part of the journey and although challenging, the reward is the opportunity to trek through the remotest area in the park, and experience one of the most famous passes in the world. The landscape is dramatic and paints a perfect picture of Patagonia's wilderness. It's not unusual to be windy and the ever changing weather is all part of the experience. As we reach the highest point of the circuit at 1200m, we are treated to an awe-inspiring view of the Grey Glacier, an enormous fractured ice-mass choking the valley. This mammoth glacier is 6kms wide and 28km long and as it flows southward into Lago Grey, is an unbelievable site. Our trail continues south before we join a footpath surrounded by forested slopes which brings us down to Camp Grey located close to Glacier Grey. This evening you can enjoy the facilities of Refugio Grey whilst staying at its fixed camp. Here you'll find a welcoming bar area and comfy lounge where you can always buy a soft drink, beer or glass of wine to toast your John Gardner Pass success whilst enjoying the superb views. Tonight's dinner will be taken in the refuge alongside other travellers who are trekking in the park.

Trek alongside Grey Glacier to the stunning turquoise blue Pehoe Lake.

After a leisurely breakfast in Refugio Grey we join a trail which runs alongside Lago Grey and offers fantastic views of Glacier Grey. The view over the lake with its numerous giant icebergs drifting across the water is haunting and breath-taking. In November 2017 Glacier Grey made headline news when a rare ice rupture occurred. The result was a giant iceberg breaking away from the main glacier and floating free. Our trail ascends slightly onto a flat ridge and passes a small lake before descending through a dry valley to Lago Pehoe, which is where we camp. Today is a shorter day which means we'll have time to relax after our arrival at camp. There are a number of footpaths close by the lake which are excellent for strolling along and taking in the views. One of the most magnificent birds that live in the park is the incredible condor and if we are lucky we may see them soaring overhead. With a lifespan of up to 70 years, this remarkable bird of prey is a member of the vulture family and soars effortlessly due to a wingspan of over 3m. Tonight our camp location is in the very heart of the national park and a great place to stay.

DAY 8

Into the spectacular Frances Valley before heading to camp Los Cuernos.

Today we leave the area of Lago Pehoe and follow an undulating footpath through a rich variety of terrain including mixed grassland and forest. Along the way we pass two small lakes and continue to meet the River Frances which we follow upstream towards Camp Italiano and the start of the Frances Valley. This hidden campsite is nestled in woodland and is a real remote camping location. If the weather is on our side we'll continue up into the valley which is spectacular, however the weather is a major factor in today's walk. The main highlight of the Frances Valley is the stunning location and views of the Frances Glacier. As we continue up into the valley we'll arrive at Campamento Británico which is a hut built for the very few that climb Las Torres. The magnificent setting of the Frances Valley is surrounded by high peaks on all sides and include the Cuernos del Paine or the Horns. After taking in the views we descend as far as Camp Italiano before turning east and following a trail for a couple of hours to Camp Los Cuernos beside Lake Nordenskjöld. Tonight we camp close to Los Cuernos Refugio and in the evening we'll enjoy dinner in the refuge which has a restaurant and bar plus wonderful views of the surrounding mountains including the famed Cuernos.

Trek along the shores of beautiful Lake Nordenskjöld.

This morning we leave our camp and continue on our journey eastward along the northern shores of Lake Nordenskjöld. The beautiful body of water is named after Otto Nordenskiöld, a Finnish Swede geologist, geographer and polar explorer. Nordenskiöld led many expeditions to Patagonia including one at the beginning of the 20th Century when he discovered the lake. The outfall of Nordenskjöld Lake is the majestic waterfall known as Salto Grande and along the way today we'll pass areas that are rich in local flora and fauna including wild guanacos. These comical members of the camelid family are native to South America and their curious faces are excellent to photograph. Living for up to 25 years, guanacos are expert jumpers and it's always amusing to see groups of young bachelors galloping around. Another resident of the park is the South American grey fox, which is a small solitary animal and is often seen around camp sites or park headquarters on the lookout for food. Our trail offers great views across the lake and also beautiful views of the rocky Cuernos del Paine. We finish today at the serviced campsite at Chileno.

DAY 10

Hike through Valle Ascencio and up to one of the most iconic viewpoints in Patagonia.

Although we have already completed a full Paine Circuit, today we have the jaw-dropping opportunity to hike up to one of the best viewpoints in the park, for those wanting to walk a little further. This final day takes us to the base of the Las Torres range at the head of the Ascencio Valley and for some this is considered the most challenging day of the circuit, hence why we do it at the end of the trek when everyone is feeling ready to tackle it. It is approximately a four hour hike to the Torres del Paine viewpoint and this incredible place can be windy even in the midst of the Patagonian summer. However, despite the challenge of a rocky trail and the chance of unpredictable weather, today is well worth the effort. The summits of these spectacular peaks are close to 3000m and are what remains of a rocky cirque, gradually eroded by glacial action. The sight of these rock towers, reflected in the lake below, is absolutely stunning and the perfect grand finale to our trekking journey. After taking plenty of photos and taking in the views, we return back to the refuge and continue to meet our transport, where we will take a short private transfer to a lovely estancia, where we can relax in front of the fireplace, drinking in the views.

DAY 11

Bid goodbye to Torres del Paine National Park and transfer to El Calafate.

This morning we say goodbye to the Torres del Paine region and make our way back to Argentina via the border at Cerro Castillo. From here we catch a second bus for our journey back to El Calafate. The journey typically takes 6 hours and after our arrival back in the hotel there will be time to relax and freshen up before meeting up and heading out for dinner.

If you would like to see more of Patagonia why not extend your time by joining one of KE's excellent extensions. We offer a wonderful walking adventure to magnificent area of Fitz Roy and Cerro Torre and an extension the breath-taking Land of Fire - Tierra del Fuego which includes trips on the Beagle Channel and the chance to see resident penguins, seabirds and seals. These can be found in more detail under 'Extend Your Holiday' on the website. Speak to a member of the team and we will happily help you organise an extension or two.

Chalten Extension

El Chaltén is the top rated hiking destination in Argentina. This charming little village sits at the foot of Mt. Fitz Roy, it's surrounded by glaciers, lakes, rivers and forests. With endless options for exploration, we have hand-picked two of the best day walks from this hiker's paradise. We first hike to Laguna de los Tres with magnificent views of the formidable Mt. Fitz Roy - one of the most impressive vistas in all of Patagonia. Our second day walk takes us through forests and canyons on our way to Laguna Torre, again providing incredible views of the rocky high peaks of Patagonia's Southern Ice Field. From Laguna Torre we have views of the stunning Cerro Torre, once thought to be the hardest mountain to climb in the world. After 3 nights to explore the food and delights of El Chaltén we transfer back to El Calafate.

This extension fits in perfectly, post-tour, with KE's Patagonia Paine Circuit and is a wonderful way to see the very best of this magnificent area.

Iguazu Falls

Straddling the border between Argentina and Brazil, the Iguazu Falls are the largest of their kind in the world. Tumbling over the 3km-wide edge of the Parana Plateau, the falls consist of between 150-300 waterfalls, dominated by the long, narrow chasm that is known as the Devil's Throat. One of the world's true natural wonders, the sheer force and power of these falls can be felt on our extension which allows us to visit from both sides of the border. On the Argentinian side, we are able to wonder in, out and between the falls, whereas on the Brazilian side it is possible experience and observe the falls from a step back, which enables a true sense of perspective. What a wonderful way to cap your experience in Patagonia!

Calafate Extension

One of South America's top highlights, Perito Moreno Glacier is a "must-see" for any Patagonia traveller! Set in the UNESCO World Heritage Site of Los Glaciares National Park, it is one of the innumerable glaciers that make up the Southern Patagonian Ice Field, the third largest mass of ice after Antarctica and Greenland.

Starting in El Calafate, we transfer to Los Glaciares National Park where we explore the walkways and viewpoints that give us a unique panorama of the 5km ice wall at the head of the glacier. As an active glacier, one of the few in the world that is not receding, we may see dramatic icefalls as the ice carves off and plummets into Lago Argentino (Argentina's biggest lake).

After exploring on foot, we take to the water on our Nautical Safari Tour. Here we cruise across Lake Rico, passing between icebergs that have calved off the glacier. As we reach 'Icebergs Channel', at a safe distance, we sail down the headwall of the glacier, allowing for spectacular close-up views of nature at work!

This extension fits in perfectly, pre tour, with KE's Patagonia Paine Circuit and is a wonderful way to see this impressive natural wonder.

All meals except 2 dinners and one lunch in El Calafate are included in the holiday cost.

Food & Water

Many places on this holiday have drinkable water from the tap to fill your personal water bottles. Please check with the leader at the various locations. Please take purification tablets or a filter bottle (such as a Water-To-Go bottle) for days when drinking water out of the tap is not available. We do not encourage the purchasing of single use plastic bottles.

Patagonia's rich and fertile land, combined with a fascinating human history of waves of European immigration ensures a rich and diverse cuisine. The glacial waters of the national parks mean an abundance of fresh trout and salmon which are grilled, pan-fried or roasted. It is hard to imagine being able to source fresher and wilder freshwater fish than here! For those seeking a seafood hit, king crab chowder would be hard to beat! An incredibly indulgent dish of crab, cheese and cream, topped with breadcrumbs. Patagonia is also rightly famed for its lamb, often spit-roasted over a wood fire, served with a sauce made from the local calafate berry. Wild deer and boar roam the rugged landscape here, and can often be found on the menu too. Empanadas are very similar to Cornish pasties and are stuffed with lamb, vegetables or cheese. The influence in the highlands is alpine, and happily this also means chocolate of the very highest quality. For those seeking refreshment, Patagonia (like much of Latin America) is experiencing a boom in micro-breweries and are well worth seeking out. The calafate berry also makes it in to the local version of the Pisco Sour, which locals will tell you is far superior to any other! Finally, wine lovers will be utterly spoiled with the very best Malbec, Pinot noir and Torrentes wines.

Special Diets

Whilst we can cater for vegetarians, albeit sometimes with a more limited choice, we cannot always provide special diets. Due to the nature of some of the trips that we operate and the countries in which we operate them, it can be very hard (and sometimes impossible) to cater for a wide range of dietary choices and you may have to supplement your diet with food/snacks from home. If you have specific dietary requirements please do speak to our sales team and they will be able to advise you whether or not we will be able to offer your specific choice. Please note that we are unable to provide separate menus and cannot accept liability for any problems arising from special dietary requirements or intolerances.

Accommodation

Accommodation at the El Calafate hotel and Estancia is based on twin sharing rooms and if you are a solo traveller you will be paired up with another solo traveller of the same sex. The refugio fixed campsites offer comfortable facilities and dining and shared bathrooms are to be found in the refugio. They are all in the most incredible locations and the tents offer more privacy and space than staying in the shared mixed-gender bunkrooms. Each refuge has a small shop and a restaurant and are part of the fantastic trekking culture in Patagonia.

The single supplement includes the two nights hotel in El Calafate, the one night in an Estancia and a single tent whilst camping, although the tents are strictly subject to availability.

For Flight Inclusive Passengers, we also stay 1 night at the start and 1 night at the end of the trip in Buenos Aires in a comfortable city centre hotel in the Palermo District close to the airport. Single rooms for these nights are available at additional cost (not included in the land only single supplement price).

Additional hotel nights in El Calafate and Buenos Aires are also available. For hotel prices and single supplement costs please refer to the dates and prices page of the trip on our website. Hotels are subject to availability and prices may vary.

Group Leader & Support Staff

The group will be led by a professional and qualified tour leader.

Altitude

This holiday does not involve any significant ascent to altitude and we would not expect any altitude issues with this trip.

Spending Money

We estimate that $500 will cover all of your expenditures whilst in Argentina and Chile, including the aforementioned meals, soft drinks, staff tips (allow $300). If you intend to purchase expensive souvenirs, you should budget accordingly. You can withdraw local currency (Chilean and Argentina pesos) using most credit and debit cards from ATM's in El Calafate. Credit cards are also accepted in almost all restaurants and shops. If you are taking your money in cash we recommend you do this in US dollars including some small denomination notes as this will make changing money easy, you may get a better exchange rate changing dollars than withdrawing from an ATM. We do not recommend taking travellers cheques as these can be time consuming to exchange and often attract a poorer rate.

Guidance on Tipping

Tips are the accepted way of saying 'thank you' to your local guides. They do not form part of their wages. KE always pays local crews the best rates of pay, no matter what country they are in and any tips they receive are seen as a personal thank you from group members. For our part, we advise local teams that tips are not a duty or a prerequisite but are a bonus and entirely dependent on the service that was given. For your trek crews we recommend that you give a tip if you feel that their services have met your satisfaction. We recommend that you give any tips from the group as a whole rather than from individuals and that the whole group agree on a level of tipping that everyone is happy with. As a rough guide we suggest you allow a total of $80 - $100 per person, per guide (usually 3) to put into a tipping pool, and a smaller additional tip for the driver.

Additional Information

Due to the nature of the Torres del Paine National Park reservation system for the refugios and campsites, it is essential to book early on this trip. Trips often reach their capacity and we cannot accept more travellers beyond this for a given departure. In addition, final accommodation listings are submitted to the National Park sites around 2 months in advance of the trip and can often not be added to after this due to the very high demand in the National Park. Any bookings received after this point will be subject to availability of these accommodations.

Beat the Jet Lag

Our holidays are normally designed with minimal 'down time' at the start of the trip, but having a day or two at the beginning will have the additional benefit of allowing you time to get over the stress of a long journey or travelling across time zones, leaving you refreshed and ready for your holiday. We can easily arrange for you to have additional nights and airport transfers.

Baggage Allowance

During the trek, your baggage will split into 2 parts:

Any items that are not required during your trek can be left in your main kitbag in a secure location in El Calafate, arranged with your tour leader.

Any items that you will require on trek will be carried by yourself. We recommend that you carry a 55 litre rucksack that will contain spare clothes, minimal wash kit and personal items, water proofs and any other items you will require on trek.

You will not have to carry a sleeping bag or mat.

Group Size & Holiday Status

For each holiday there is a minimum number of participants required to enable it to go ahead. Once the minimum number is reached, the trip status will change from 'Available' to 'Guaranteed to run'. You can check the trip status for each departure in 'Dates and Prices' table. Other than in exceptional circumstances, we will not cancel a trip once it has achieved this guaranteed to run status and so you are free to proceed with your international flight booking and other travel arrangements.

General Information

Passport & Visas

The information that we provide is for UK passport holders. A passport with 6 months remaining validity at the end of your stay is generally required, and you should have at least 2 blank pages for each country that you visit.

It is your responsibility to ensure that you have the correct travel documents and visas for your holiday. Please ensure that you check for the latest advice before travel. For the most up to date information on entry requirements, please visit the UK Government website.

Visa Argentina

UK and USA passport holders do not require a visa for short stays.

Visa Chile

UK and USA passport holders do not require a visa for short stays. USA passport holders will be issued with a tourist card on arrival.

Health & Vaccinations

If you have a severe allergy please inform the KE office before you travel. We will do all we can to help, but we cannot guarantee an allergy free environment on KE trips. You will need to carry your own treatment for the allergy with you, as 'adrenaline auto-injectors' are not carried as standard by KE leaders and staff. You should inform your leader on arrival of your allergy, and let them know where you keep your adrenaline pen.

VACCINATIONS

You should contact your doctor or travel clinic to check whether you require any specific vaccinations or other preventive measures. You should be up to date with routine courses and boosters as recommended in the UK e.g. diphtheria-tetanus-polio and measles-mumps-rubella, along with hepatitis A and typhoid. A good online resource is Travel Health Pro.

Dengue fever is a known risk in places visited. It is a tropical viral disease spread by daytime biting mosquitoes. There is currently no vaccine or prophylaxis available and therefore the best form of prevention is to avoid being bitten. We recommend you take precautions to avoid mosquito bites.

Preparing for your Holiday

It makes a lot of sense to spend some time before coming on a trekking or climbing trip getting some additional exercise. The fitter you are, after all, the more enjoyable you will find the experience. Our treks can be physically demanding, but more as a result of altitude and terrain than distances walked. We would suggest that you adopt a weekly exercise regime. Jogging and swimming are good for developing aerobic fitness and better stamina. You should gradually increase your exercise leading up to departure, and in the month before setting off, we suggest that you try to fit in a number of long walks in hilly country, carrying a rucksack.

Climate

The vast unbroken stretch of ocean to the west and south of the South American continent leaves the Patagonian Andes exposed to a variety of weather. As you'd expect when travelling to any mountain region you need to be prepared for all conditions. We operate our holidays to Patagonia during the optimum time for trekking when the days are longer and warmer days. During this time the temperatures in El Calafate are around 22°C and in El Chalten around 19°C. These are maximum figures and night temperatures in Patagonia will be colder than this, and occasionally freezing. Patagonia is a wilderness and at times can be windy and it's not unusual to experience all four seasons in a day.

Travel Aware

As a reputable tour operator, KE supports the British Foreign, Commonwealth and Development Office's 'Travel Aware' campaign to enable British citizens to prepare for their journeys overseas. The 'Travel Aware' website provides a single, authoritative source of advice for all kinds of travellers and we recommend that prior to travel, all KE clients visit the official UK Government website at travelaware.campaign.gov.uk and read the FCDO Travel Advice for their chosen destination. North Americans can also check out the U.S. Department of State website: www.travel.state.gov for essential travel advice and tips.

KE treat the safety and security of all clients as the most important aspect of any trip we organise. We would not run any trip that we did not consider reasonably safe. Should the FCDO advise against travel for any reason, we will contact everyone booked to travel to discuss the situation. We receive regular updates direct from the FCDO and are in constant touch with our contacts on the ground. If you have any questions about government travel advice, please call our office.

Single Use Plastic

KE do not encourage the use of single use plastic items. We are ensuring that our agents all over the world are working together to reduce the problem and educate those around them. We are leading by example in our KE office by reducing our plastic use.
