Introduction

The hidden gem that is Albania is a fascinating country with so much to offer to the discerning traveller. Endowed with an incredible coastline on both the Adriatic and Ionian Seas, along with wild and untamed mountain ranges, this welcoming and emerging destination is calling for you to discover. On this one week self-guided walking holiday, you will immerse yourself into the south coast of Albania where the “thunder-split” peaks of the Ceraunian Mountains rise from the Ionian Sea.

Your holiday starts on your arrival to Tirana Airport, where you will be met and transferred to the lush green heights of the Llogara National Park; here you will discover its quiet trails and the breathtaking Karaburun Peninsula on foot. Contrasting your mountain experience, you will also spend 4 nights in Himara on the Ionian coast. Your day walks on the Albanian Riviera will take you on sections of the Southern Coastal Trail, hiking between rocky coves and beautiful bays with sparkling turquoise waters, and off the beaten track into the foothills of the Ceraunian mountain range that emerges from the sea. Along the way you will discover not only the picture-postcard azure beaches, but also the rich cultural heritage and culinary traditions of the region. You will also have the pleasure of Albanian hospitality and support local businesses by staying in hand-selected family-run guesthouses and small hotels. Ending your holiday with a final night in Tirana, you will have the opportunity to delve into this lively and colourful city, taking in the atmosphere at Skanderbeg Square, admire the historic Et'hem Bey Mosque, and perhaps pay an eye-opening visit to the National History Museum.

Is this holiday for you?

This holiday is perfect for those looking to experience a hidden gem on foot at your own pace, with the ease and assurance of transfers to/from each day's walk arranged for you. Albania is an emerging destination and this is a great option to discover some wonderful walking while avoiding the crowds.

This holiday comprises of day walks; you will walk 3-5 hours each day with around 500m of average daily ascent/descent. The nature of the terrain on the coast and in the mountains means that trails are often narrow and uneven, and sometimes steep and rocky. Trails are waymarked and on the whole are easy to follow, though some trails may be less defined. While there is no official trail maintenance, the trails are well-trodden and have been used by people or animals for years. A GPS device is provided locally for additional confidence and assistance with route finding on your walks.

You will stay in carefully selected simple hotels or comfortable family-run guesthouses, always in rooms with private bathrooms. There will be plenty of opportunities for swimming in the Ionian Sea so don't forget to pack your swimsuit and towel.

Private transfer from Tirana to Llogara National Park in the south of Albania.

Your holiday begins with a meet & greet at Tirana Airport, where you will be welcomed by your private driver and receive a briefing on your week ahead. Your driver will transfer you to the Ceraunian Mountains on the south coast of Albania, a journey of around 3 hours; time permitting you may be able to enjoy a couple of interesting stops along the way. On your journey you will pass the salt pans of the Narta Lagoon and travel through the historic city of Vlora, at the foothills of the Ceraunian range. Admire the views over the bay and out to the sparkling Adriatic Sea before the road ascends into the green mountains to reach your hotel in the Llogara National Park, at an altitude of 800m. Once you have settled in you are free to take your pick of the restaurants available in this mountain hub to enjoy your first Albanian meal, and rest up for the night ready for a wonderful week of walking.

If you are spending an additional night in Tirana city before the start of your holiday, your driver will meet you at your hotel in the city and provide your briefing before transferring you to Llogara.

DAY 2

Hike to the Dhjopuri Pass (1600m) for stunning views out to the Ionian Sea, before transferring to Himara on the coast.

Blanketed in thick forest, the Llogara National Park is an important nature reserve protecting unique ecosystems, endemic flora and the diverse fauna that thrive in this habitat. The landscapes are a striking combination of rich forest, alpine meadows, and rugged rock faces. This morning you will enjoy the refreshing mountain air with your first walk of the week, to reach the Dhjopuri Pass (1600m) located beneath the stark rocky peak of Qorre (2018m).

A short transfer takes you from your hotel to the start of the trail at the Llogara Pass (1043m). Embarking on a narrow route through forests of snake skin pine, so called for its patterned bark, you will be accompanied by its lovely fragrance and perhaps also catch the scent of chamomile and sage as you ascend to the saddle. The climb on the shepherd's trail in the pleasant shade of the pines is initially steep but soon becomes steady going. You will be rewarded for your efforts with a spectacular vista over the Albanian coastline and tantalising views of the islands in the glistening Ionian Sea, including Corfu. After enjoying your picnic lunch and drinking in the views, descend via the same route to meet your transfer and your luggage for your journey down to the seaside town of Himara and your base for the next four

Walk through the sleepy hill villages of Kudhes and Upper Qeparo to the sparkling bay of Borsh.

A morning transfer (30 minutes) takes you on a scenic drive along the glistening coastline before heading inland, deep into the hilly backdrop of the Albanian Riviera. The first section of your walk follows the quiet surfaced road leading to Kudhes, a hillside village seemingly untouched by time. Historically, the residents of this mountainous settlement made their livelihoods with sheep and goats, as well as from agriculture as evidenced in the olive plantations, orchards, and vineyards. Situated at an elevation of 335m, there are wonderful vistas of the surrounding green slopes and the distant sea. Seek out the public plaza and enjoy a relaxed coffee in the company of friendly locals.

From the village, your walk takes you along an ancient shepherd's trail connecting Kudhes and Qeparo, taking you through tranquil forests and terraced fields, with unfolding views before you. On this walk you are likely to come across herds of goats rather than other people. Reaching Upper (Old) Qeparo, wind your way through its stone houses and cobbled streets and perhaps take a break at a traditional taverna, before continuing your walk in the direction of the sea. You have the option of taking a short descent to conclude your day's walk at Lower (New) Qeparo; or you might like to continue your journey to Borsh and catch a taster view of this long bay that you will come back to explore later in the week. At the end of your walk, you will meet your driver for your transfer back to Himara.

Discover the sparkling coves of Jala and Livadi on foot, with plenty of opportunities for swimming in the Ionian Sea today.

Enjoy a leisurely breakfast and ensure you have packed your swimwear and towel today. You will be collected from your hotel and transferred to Vuno (30 minutes), from where you will descend initially on cobbled alleys, then on a straightforward track through the scrubby coastal cliffs and on a section of asphalted road to reach the inviting waters of the Ionian Sea. The trail takes you to the attractive cove of Jala Beach where bars and cafes gives it a lively resort atmosphere. Picking up the path at the far end of the bay, you will soon reach a couple of secluded bays only accessible by foot, boasting of waters so crystal-clear that it has been dubbed "Aquarium Beach". You might well like to bag yourself a spot on the pebbly beach and enjoy a paddle in the azure waters.

Feeling refreshed, carry on walking along the coastal path to the next resort of Livadi Beach. With over 1km of bright white sand, it's easy to see why this beach is a popular destination for local holiday makers. Again there is a plethora of cafes, bars and restaurants for you to sample some deliciously fresh seafood while enjoying the sea view and atmosphere.

From Livadi, you can either continue along the coastal path to reach the next bay along and return to your hotel in Himara; or you could take an extension option from Livadi to reach Old Himara, further up the hill, and pay a visit to the ruins of the medieval castle of Himara. At this elevated position you will gain beautiful views over the bay and the neighbouring islands, with the afternoon sun glinting on the sea. To return to your hotel from Old Himara, you can either pick up a taxi locally, or head down on foot following the road.

Get off the beaten track to discover quiet mountain trails in the southern Riviera.

This morning a transfer takes you south to Lukova (50 minutes). Surrounded by olive and orange plantations, the village is thought to have derived its name from the old Slavic word of "lluke" meaning "green landscape". Your route follows a shepherd's trail heading up into the mountains as the peaks rise from the sea.

Striking out from the village, the well-used trail becomes steep in parts, and being an off-the-beaten-track route frequented by more sheep than hikers, you may need to pay that bit more attention to your route finding as you make your way up the hillside. The challenging ascent is rewarded as you emerge to a viewpoint offering breath taking views of Lavani mountain (959m) ahead and the surrounding peaks. As you continue your ascent up the rocky trail, you might be able to pick out the stone-built village of Sasaj, clinging to the high mountain side. Soon you will rise above the treeline; it won't be much further until you crest the pass and commence your descent with unimpeded views on either side of the mountain ridge. Following the wide gravel track, you will drop steadily through untarnished landscapes while drinking in the sea views, to reach the village of Piqeras where you can enjoy some well-deserved refreshments before meeting your transfer for your return journey to your hotel base in Himara.

Follow the dramatic Mediterranean coastline along the Prisoner's Trail from Lukova to Borsh. Transfer to Llogara.

Today is your last day on the southern coast, and what a beautiful day you have in store. In the morning you will be transferred again to Lukova (50 minutes) where you will start your walk through the village, discovering pretty flower adorned houses and old cobblestone alleys as you walk from the newer part of the village to the older settlement. On the outskirts you will find among the olive groves the dilapidated stone Church of St Friday, a cultural monument dating back to the 17th century. The path continues its gentle descent toward the sea, winding its way through green plantations until you emerge onto the sandy beach. Walking along the shore, the lapping turquoise waters invite you for a cooling paddle. The path soon turns inland again, the scent of chamomile accompanying you as the route climbs through terraced fields toward the village of Piqeras some 200m above sea level.

The trail that you take today is known as the Prisoner's Trail; the peaceful surroundings lined with olive groves give little indication that this trail was once used by prisoners carrying out hard labour, who were not allowed to use the main road or enter the village. The terraced slopes created by the military, prisoners, and some villagers during the communist period were used to grow olives, lemons and oranges but now increasingly these are becoming disused and overgrown. The long bay of Borsh with its seemingly endless beaches and shimmering water stretches beneath you - you will keep this view in sight as you stroll along the hillside to the end point of your walk in Borsh. You might like to enjoy a final swim in the Ionian Sea before meeting your transfer in the afternoon for your return to Llogara and the tranquil heights of the Ceraunian Mountains.

Enjoy the contrasts of rocky ridges and verdant forest in the Llogara NP. Transfer to Tirana.

Your walk this morning begins at the trailhead at the Llogara Pass, this time taking in the rocky spine of the Karaburun Peninsula, offering up panoramic views of the rugged Albanian Riviera: from the southern bays that you discovered earlier in the week, to the Bay of Vlora tucked into the northern tip of the peninsula. From the pass, you will take a wide gravel road snaking its way along the side of the ridge. Reaching the road end, you will make your way across some trail-less terrain which should not pose any difficulties in clear weather, but in the event of fog generated by the microclimates it would be a good idea to have your GPS device to hand to aid you on your way. The faint trail follows the flank of the mountain before looping inland back toward the centre of the Llogara National Park, taking you over the spine of the Karaburun and into lush green forests of pine, fir, ash and oak. This verdant route on rocky paths offers pleasant shade and a delightful contrast to the windswept rugged terrain of the first half of your walk. The National Park reserve is home to diverse wildlife including fallow deer, roe deer, foxes, red squirrels, griffon vultures and golden eagles, so keep your eyes and ears peeled for any elusive sightings.

Arriving back to your hotel, your driver will collect you and your luggage for your transfer to Tirana for your final night in the city, arriving in the late afternoon or early evening. Freshen up and go on an evening stroll from your hotel to soak in the lively atmosphere of the city, before tucking in to a celebratory dinner in one of the many local restaurants serving up delicious Albanian fare.

This trip is on a bed and breakfast basis to allow you the most flexibility during your trip. We have also included two packed lunches when you are Llogara where shops or cafes are not readily available.

It is not recommended to drink untreated water from the taps. You should take purification tablets or a filter bottle (such as a Water-To-Go bottle) to treat your water. We do not encourage the purchasing of single use plastic bottles.

With a mix of Balkan, Greek and Italian influences, Albania offers a rich variety of dishes with a Mediterranean flair, utilising the seasonal produce of the region. In the mountains, you can expect hearty meat dishes such as stews or grilled meats, typically with lamb. A national specialty to try is Tave Kosi, a baked casserole of lamb, yoghurt, eggs and rice. The popular side dish of stuffed peppers filled with rice and herbs, or even meat or cheese are delicious. At the coast there will be plenty of excellent seafood options, with freshly caught fish such as bream, sea bass, octopus, squid, shrimp and so on. With the Italian influence you can also expect pasta and pizza to be readily available, plus coffee is a way of life. While in Albania, you should try the Byrek, a popular snack of filled filo pastry. Meat-free dishes are also readily available, with grilled or baked vegetables, cheese dishes, soups and salads.

To satisfy your sweet tooth, make sure you sample some baklava with layers of thin filo, honey and nuts; or a variation with shredded filo called kadaif. Fried dough balls called petulla are a popular snack any time of day, with a variety of toppings such as chocolate, jam, honey or cheese.

In hotels breakfast are continental style, with cereals, bread and jam, meat, cheese, tea, coffee and sometimes eggs and fruit. You may also have the chance to try a more traditional Albanian breakfast of flavoured rice.

If you would like to sample some locally-produced drinks, Albania produces lagers and wines, or you might also like to brave the strong grape liquor known as raki. These can be purchased from most hotels and shops along the way.

Special Diets

Whilst we can cater for vegetarians, albeit sometimes with a more limited choice, we cannot always provide special diets. Due to the nature of some of the trips that we operate and the countries in which we operate them, it can be very hard (and sometimes impossible) to cater for a wide range of dietary choices and you may have to supplement your diet with food/snacks from home. If you have specific dietary requirements please do speak to our sales team and they will be able to advise you whether or not we will be able to offer your specific choice. Please note that we are unable to provide separate menus and cannot accept liability for any problems arising from special dietary requirements or intolerances.

All accommodations are booked in twin or double rooms with private bathrooms, on a bed and breakfast basis. Where you are in the more remote mountains we have also included two packed lunches from the hotel.

In Llogara, you will stay at a simple and welcoming mountain inn with a popular restaurant serving up traditional Albanian fare. Located in the heart of the National Park and surrounded by natural woodland, the hiking trails are practically on the hotel doorstep.

In the coastal town of Himare, you will stay four nights in a comfortable, family-run guesthouse with easy access to the beach.

In Tirana, you will stay at a centrally-located hotel in the city, a great spot from which to explore on foot with some the most popular attractions of Tirana within walking distance.

Please note that not all places are able to accept payment by credit card so having a supply of cash is a good idea.

Baggage Allowance

Your main luggage will be transferred between each of your hotels while you are out on your walk. We ask that you please ensure your luggage is limited to one soft bag (duffle bag or rucksack) under 15kg per person and that your luggage is ready for collection in the morning. It is your responsibility to ensure that you have the correct travel documents and visas for your holiday. Please ensure that you check for the latest advice before travel. For the most up to date information on entry requirements, please visit the UK Government website.

Visa Albania

UK and USA passport holders do not require a visa for short stays.

Health & Vaccinations

Vaccinations

You should contact your doctor or travel clinic to check whether you require any specific vaccinations.

GHIC / Medical cover

UK residents should carry a free Global Health Insurance Card (GHIC). This entitles you to state provided medical treatment when you're visiting an EU country or Switzerland. This is not a substitute for medical travel insurance which is vital when travelling overseas.

Severe Allergies

Please inform our KE Sales and support team of any severe allergies you may have before travel. We will always do our best to help but we are unable to guarantee an allergy free environment on our KE trips. We advise that you always carry your own treatment for the allergy with you such as 'adrenaline auto-injectors' if required. We also recommend that you discuss this with your accommodation on arrival so that they can better assist you.

Currency

The unit of currency in Albania is the Lek.

Preparing for your Holiday

The advantage of a self-guided walking holiday is that you decide the pace however, getting some additional exercise before coming on an active holiday makes a lot of sense. The fitter you are, after all, the more enjoyable your walks will be. You should be comfortable with walking 4 to 5 hours for consecutive days. We suggest that you try to fit in a number of daily walks in hilly countryside before your trip and it is always a good idea to spend some time walking in the footwear you are going to use on this holiday.

Climate

Albania has a Mediterranean climate which varies by region. Coastal areas experience mild, wet winters and hot, dry summers, with temperatures reaching highs of 35-40 °C in July and August. Spring and autumn brings a moderate climate with temperatures reaching daytime highs of 22-26 °C, which are more comfortable for a walking holiday, hence this holiday is not offered in the summer. Flowers are in bloom in the spring, while the Ionian Sea is delightfully warm in the autumn. Mountainous regions such as Llogara feel cooler, with temperatures between 15-19 °C in spring and autumn, and can experience alpine microclimates with strong winds. While Albania enjoys a great deal of sunshine, rain can be expected at any time of the year particularly in mountainous regions, so you should always be prepared for all eventualities.

Those choosing to travel in November should be aware that the clocks go back an hour at the end of October. As such, the day will be an hour shorter in November, with the sun setting soon after 4pm. We recommend that walks should be planned accordingly to maximise the available daylight later in the year.

Travel Aware

As a reputable tour operator, KE supports the British Foreign, Commonwealth and Development Office's 'Travel Aware' campaign to enable British citizens to prepare for their journeys overseas. The 'Travel Aware' website provides a single, authoritative source of advice for all kinds of travellers and we recommend that prior to travel, all KE clients visit the official UK Government website at travelaware.campaign.gov.uk and read the FCDO Travel Advice for their chosen destination. North Americans can also check out the U.S. Department of State website: www.travel.state.gov for essential travel advice and tips.

Should the FCDO advise against travel for any reason, we will contact everyone booked to travel to discuss the situation. We receive regular updates direct from the FCDO and are in constant touch with our contacts on the ground. If you have any questions about government travel advice, please call our office.
