Introduction

Forming a natural boundary between the states of Alberta and British Columbia and rising to over 3,500 metres, the snow-capped Canadian Rockies include some of the world's finest mountain scenery. To make the most of this dramatic region, we have devised a walking holiday that explores a variety of trails and areas that showcase the natural wonders on offer. Traversing forested valleys to flower-filled alpine meadows and pretty glacial lakes, each of our day-walks will take us into the middle mountains allowing access to some of the most coveted and iconic views and experiences.

We begin our journey in the quieter landscapes of Kananaskis National Park, spending time on some of its finest trails, including the scenic hikes to Chester Lake and Burstall Pass. From here we travel to the iconic heart of the Rockies, basing ourselves around Lake Louise to explore classic routes such as the Plain of Six Glaciers before continuing into the Yoho National Park. A highlight of this section is a visit to Moraine Lake, where we hike the spectacular Wenkchemna Pass, surrounded by soaring peaks and turquoise waters. Our route then turns north as we follow the legendary Icefields Parkway toward Jasper, one of the most scenic drives in the world. Along the way we stop to stretch our legs with a hike at Parker Ridge or an Athabasca Glacier walk, offering close-up views of this dramatic icefield environment. We spend several nights in Jasper National Park, discovering its diverse alpine scenery on hikes such as Maligne Lake and the panoramic Bald Hills Loop. Continuing west, we visit Mount Robson Provincial Park to enjoy the beautiful Kinney Lake hike, set beneath the towering presence of Mount Robson, the highest peak in the Canadian Rockies. To round off the adventure, we return south to Banff, where our journey concludes with outstanding high-level hikes at Cory Pass and the Cascade Amphitheatre—a spectacular finale to an unforgettable exploration of the Canadian Rockies.

Is this holiday for you?

This holiday is a series of moderate day hikes in the Canadian Rocky Mountains, reaching spectacular viewpoints, mountain lakes, forests and passes to get a stunning overview of these epic mountain ranges. The selected walks are designed to be achievable for a weekend walker, ranging from 4 to 6 hours daily with moderate elevation gain. There are a couple of longer days as well as easier days, and it would be possible to opt out of certain walks if in need of a rest. The routes are on good well-trodden trail, with a few optional extensions that use steeper trails to reach passes or viewpoints. The Cory Pass trail is the toughest day at 1100m elevation and 8 hours hiking, partly on easy forest trail and partly on rocky scree path. The walks have been selected to balance the key highlights of visiting the Canadian Rockies with exploring some quieter trails to experience the peace and nature of the mountains. During this holiday we will be using the national park campgrounds, staying in tents (with the exception of our time in Lake Louise, where we stay in the Alpine Centre Hostel in shared dormitories). The camping is on a participatory basis so you will be expected to put up your tent and assist with daily camp chores such as food preparation and washing up.

DAY 2

Drive to Kananaskis. Hike to Chester Lake in Kananaskis National Park.

In the morning, we drive about two hours to Kananaskis Country to begin our adventure in the Rocky Mountains. A favourite destination for local hikers and far less touristic than other areas, Kananaskis offers peaceful trails leading to spectacular mountain viewpoints, alpine meadows, and pristine lakes.

Our first hike, the Chester Lake Trail, is considered one of the best in the region. Unlike many narrow mountain paths, its wide route allows groups to walk comfortably together. The trail follows a moderate incline through dense pine and larch forest, eventually opening to a picturesque alpine lake surrounded by majestic peaks.

At the highest point of the day, the path leads into a stunning alpine meadow encircled by rugged summits. After taking in our first breathtaking views of this remarkable range, we descend via the same trail and head to our campground at Boulton Creek. We will camp here for the next two nights.

Kananaskis National Park: Burstall Pass Hike

Today we enjoy a second day in Kananaskis as we embark on another classic hike to Burstall Pass.

Burstall Pass is a classic hike in Kananaskis Country. The route starts out meandering up through larch forest. As we ascend the forest clears allowing us to go down to the Burstall Lakes and take a break admiring these stunning waters. From here the track narrows and crosses Burstall Creek and a muddy and marshy section of the trail, before climbing on to a wildflower filled alpine meadow. From here we again climb through the forest eventually reaching Burstall Pass where the trees open up for beautiful views down into Banff National Park and Mt. Assiniboine. Dropping slightly down the other side of the pass affords extra views into Spray Valley and Mt. Leman. After a break at the pass to admire the views we return back the way we came for another night at our Kananaskis campsite.

Transfer to Lake Louise (2 hrs). Hike the Plain of the Six Glaciers.

A classic hike in Banff National Park, Plain of Six Glaciers starts on the shoreline of world-famous Lake Louise, climbs up to a traditional Canadian teahouse, and offers stunning glacier views and a look back across Lake Louise and the Chateau. From the teahouse, views of some of the tallest mountains in the Canadian Rockies are plentiful.

After breakfast we set off on the 2 hour transfer to Lake Louise. Leaving the crowds of Lake Louise behind our trail leads us past the lakeshore and climbs up through the forest. Looking back we are afforded stunning views over Lake Louise and the peaks beyond. After 5.5km, finishing with 2 steep switchbacks, we reach the Plain of Six Glaciers Tea house, a quaint and traditional Canadian Teahouse serving tea, coffee, cakes and scones. We can continue on another 1.5km to Abbot's Pass Viewpoint for more spectacular views and a great spot for today's lunch stop. We return to Lake Louise descending the same trail. The evening is free to enjoy one of Lake Louise's many restaurants and relax.

At the halfway point, we reach the Columbia Icefield Discovery Centre. From here you will have the option to participate in a 3 hour professionally guided glacier ice-walk (additional cost), with all of the necessary gear provided. This is a once in a lifetime experience, where you will venture by foot up one of the largest glaciers in the world, learning all about glaciation along the way. Be sure to bring your water bottle to fill up at the top! Or you may opt out of the ice-walk and instead hike the nearby Parker Ridge: A series of switchbacks through pristine forest with creeks, small waterfalls, and plenty of wildlife. ## DAY 8

Explore Maligne Lake and Hike the Bald Hills Loop in Jasper National Park.

After breakfast, set out on a scenic journey to Maligne Lake. Along the way, you'll likely witness areas shaped by the 2024 Jasper wildfire. While the landscape may still bear visible scars, these fires are a natural part of the ecosystem's cycle of renewal. There are signs of regeneration everywhere with new growth emerging and wildlife returning.

Upon arrival at Maligne Lake, we can pause to take in the breathtaking beauty of the largest natural lake in Jasper National Park and the Canadian Rockies. Its turquoise waters and surrounding peaks offer a moment of quiet awe before the adventure continues. From here, we begin the Bald Hills Trail, an unforgettable alpine hike that rewards you with sweeping mountain vistas and panoramic views at every turn.

In the late afternoon, pleasantly tired from a full day on the trail, return to camp for dinner and some well-deserved relaxation.

DAY 9

Explore Mount Robson Provincial Park and hike Kinney Lake.

No visit to Jasper is complete without a trip to Mount Robson Provincial Park. This morning, we travel one hour west from Jasper to reach Mount Robson, the tallest peak in the Canadian Rockies at 3,954 metres.

After spending time at the Mount Robson Visitor (Discovery) Centre and museum, we set out on a half-day hike to Kinney Lake. The hike follows a wide, well-graded trail through forested terrain alongside the Robson River. Along the way, several viewpoints offer increasingly impressive perspectives of Mount Robson as it comes fully into view. Finally we reach the striking azure-blue waters of Kinney Lake, its colour created by glacial silt flowing down from the Robson Glacier. The lakeshore provides a perfect place to take a break, enjoy lunch, and take in clear views of Mount Robson reflected in the water before returning the same way. In the late afternoon, we return to the campground at Jasper.

Banff National Park: Cory Pass Hike (2,350m).

Today starts with a short drive to the trailhead for our hike to Cory Pass. The toughest day of our trip, the Cory Pass is a varied and challenging hike with a steep 900-metre ascent to the pass, where you'll find towering rock formations and breath-taking views of the jagged Mount Louis, popular with rock climbers from around the world. After a kilometre walking through the forest the route forks uphill towards the pass. The trail climbs steeply for 1.5km before reaching a flatter section with incredible views from the ridge. We will be able to see the route contouring Mount Edith towards Cory Pass. A rocky section leads to the top of the pass, with incredible views of the 'Gargoyle Valley' and the mountains that flank it, including Mt Cory, Mt Fifi, Mt Louis and Mt Edith. We descend the other side down a scree slope and back into the forest where we join a gentle forest path back to the trailhead. From verdant forest to rocky valleys this hike provides a variety of spectacular environments to travel through. We then return to our campground in Banff.

Banff National Park: Cascade Amphitheatre Hike

Today we take another short drive to the start of the trailhead at Norquay Ski Resort, at the top of a winding switchback road above Banff Village, reducing the amount of climbing we need to reach the mountains. From the base of the ski hill we start our hike with a short descent to Forty Mile Creek, and then a steady ascent through pine forest up to the massive Cascade Amphitheatre. From the meadow below marvel at the towering limestone walls that create the amphitheatre, before descending the way we came. We return to Banff to enjoy our last evening in the mountains.

Our guide will recommend good establishments and we can eat together as a group. Whilst camping the group will need to assist with camp chores such as food preparation and washing up.

Food & Water

Food in local restaurants in Western Canada is quite typical to the UK. A variety of choices and prices to cater to all walks. As you venture into the smaller areas, the choices become more limited. For example, Lake Louise is quite limited, but still has an excellent cafe restaurant at the hostel. There is a local pub in the village centre, and other hotels/resorts to choose from. Your typical restaurant dinner menu is burgers/hand held sandwiches, pizzas, pastas, salads, and main dishes.

Camp dinner is typically hearty, easy to prepare, warm meals, that people can choose exactly what ingredients they want, for example, Tacos. Other meals could include pastas, curries, BBQ's (hotdogs/ burgers), and hot salads. We leave it up to the guides to create their own menus as this allows them to add their own flavour to the trips they lead. Your guide will be aware of any individual dietary requirements and cater to appease everyone.

Picnic lunches are typically sandwiches, wraps and salads, accompanied by fruit/veggies/nuts/granola/ bars. For the most part, during camp breakfast, the guide will set up a lunch station and guests can prepare what they want from the choices provided.

Camp breakfasts are typically quick, cold meals to help get the day going. For example, fruit and cereal/ oatmeal, with coffee/tea. However, when time allows, sometimes guides will do a bigger morning camp cook up: bacon, eggs, potatoes, etc.

As far as catering to special diets, we don't currently cater to vegans or celiacs, as we can't guarantee sourcing 100% vegan products and/or no cross contamination when cooking. We do however cater to vegetarians, at no added cost, and gluten free guests at a supplement of $10/day/person to offset the cost of gluten free products.

Accommodation

The group will have one night at the start of the holiday in a hotel in Calgary where we stay in comfortable twin-bedded rooms with private bathroom, 8 nights camping at National Park campgrounds, and 3 nights at the Lake Louise Alpine Centre Hostel in shared dormitories.

Comfortable 3 person tents are used on a 2 person basis while camping. As a participatory camping trip you will be expected to put up your own tents. Sleeping mats are provided, but you must bring your own sleeping bag, travel pillow, towel etc.

During our stay in the Lake Louise Alpine Centre Hostel, the dormitories are shared between 4 to 8 people with shared bathroom and shower facilities. Some of the dormitories are mixed male and female. There is a large kitchen area and a communal lounge area.

If you are travelling by yourself, you will be paired up with another single client of the same sex for the 1 hotel night. Single rooms are available for a supplementary cost for these nights. You will also be paired up to share a tent with another single client of the same sex, Single tents are also available at a supplementary cost for the nights camping.

If you are planning on extending your holiday additional nights at the group hotel are available on request.

Group Leader & Support Staff

The group will be led by a professional mountain guide. For groups of 6 and over there will also be an assistant guide. The guides also drive the minibus and cook meals whilst camping.

Altitude

The altitudes on this holiday are not extreme and the maximum altitude attained is no more than the equivalent of a pressurised cabin on an international flight. You may 'feel' the altitude the first time you trek above 2,000 metres but all that is required is a slower pace to compensate. You should pay particular attention to your hydration levels while trekking above 2,000 metres.

Spending Money

We recommend you allow £300-350 for your personal expenses, tips and non included dinners, bar bills etc. Your money can be carried in the form of cash (Canadian Dollars) or it is possible to withdraw your money from ATMs using your debit and credit card. There are ATMs in all towns.

Guidance on Tipping

Tipping is the accepted way of saying 'thank you' for good service. It is important to remember that tipping is voluntary and should be dependent on good service. In North America it is the norm to tip for most services and we recommend that you may wish to set aside around CAD$10-$15 per day per guide and have a few dollars to tip for meals and other services.

Baggage Allowance

There is no strict weight limit on this holiday other than that imposed by your airline. We do ask you to restrict your luggage to one main bag and a rucksack/backpack. Your main bag will be transported in the support vehicle or attached trailer.

Climate

The weather in the Canadian Mountains is ever-changing and always unpredictable. Summer days are long, but the summer season is short. July is the warmest month with a mean daily maximum temperature of 22°C. We can expect to encounter temperatures during the day ranging from 18°C to 27°C. Naturally, at the higher elevations on our trip, the daytime temperatures will be lower than this. At night, the temperatures will typically drop to around 10°C. Although the weather is relatively stable at this time of year, we can expect some rainfall as mountains produce their own weather.

Travel Aware

As a reputable tour operator, KE supports the British Foreign, Commonwealth and Development Office's 'Travel Aware' campaign to enable British citizens to prepare for their journeys overseas. The 'Travel Aware' website provides a single, authoritative source of advice for all kinds of travellers and we recommend that before travel, all KE clients visit the official UK Government website at travelaware.campaign.gov.uk and read the FCDO Travel Advice for their chosen destination. North Americans can also check out the U.S. Department of State website: www.travel.state.gov for essential travel advice and tips.

KE treat the safety and security of all clients as the most important aspect of any trip we organise. We would not run any trip that we did not consider reasonably safe. Should the FCDO advise against travel for any reason, we will contact everyone booked to travel to discuss the situation. We receive regular updates directly from the FCDO and are in constant touch with our contacts on the ground. If you have any questions about government travel advice, please call our office.

Single Use Plastic

KE do not encourage the use of single use plastic items. We are ensuring that our agents all over the world are working together to reduce the problem and educate those around them. We are leading by example in our KE office by reducing our plastic use.
