Introduction

West of Guatemala City, the highland area of the altiplano is bounded to the south by a string of impressive volcanic peaks. Rich in Maya culture and blessed with a wonderful climate, this picturesque region is the focus of our great volcano trekking holiday extravaganza. Setting out from the charming Spanish colonial city of Antigua, we begin our trekking holiday in Guatemala with an ascent of Pacaya (2552m). From the top, we have tremendous dawn views of the surrounding volcanoes and of the distant Pacific Ocean. We travel West to the shores of the beautiful Lake Atitlan, from where we first climb San Pedro (3040m) and then make a 2-day ascent of Volcan Toliman (3210m). We have a day to relax and explore the shores of Lake Atitlan before continuing our journey west to Quetzaltenango, Guatemala's second city and the home of the Quiche Mayan people. From here we make an ascent of Volcan Chicibal (2858m) and explore its crater lagoon steeped in Mayan history. Over the next two days we tackle our highest objective, Tajumulco (4220m), the highest point in Central America, reaching the summit from a camp high on the peak. Before returning to Antigua we will summit our penultimate objective 'Volcano Santa Maria' at 3772 metres. Returning to Antigua we then head south for our final volcano. From a spectacular camp between Acatenanago (3976m) and Fuego (3768m) we climb the dormant Acatenanago for views over all of our 'Magnificent Seven' volcanoes. In addition we will be treated to spectacular view of Volcan Fuego, the world's most continuously active volcano. This is an unforgettable adventure in a great trekking destination which has a freshness that will appeal to any adventure traveller.

Is this holiday for you?

The length and difficulty of each of the objectives in this holiday varies considerably and it is therefore not easy to pin to a particular grade. The overall grade we have given this holiday takes into account a number of factors including the overall length of the trip, the facilities available, and the ease with which it is possible to opt out of various sections of the itinerary. The approaches to the volcanoes on the 'Magnificent Seven' are generally easy, following established trails through coffee plantation, forest or jungle. However, the ascents of the volcanoes themselves present quite challenging hikes even to regular hillwalkers. All of the volcanoes except Pacaya and Chicibal present a considerable amount of ascent and descent (between 1200 and 1700m of ascent), sometimes on steep and/or loose ground. We do have porter or pack-horse support during those days when we are camping which means you will not be carrying heavy packs on any of these ascents.

DAY 2

Exploring Antigua in the morning. Transfer to trailhead in the afternoon and ascend Volcan Pacaya.

Designated a 'World Heritage' site in 1979, Antigua is one of the most attractive cities in the Americas and has a rich and colourful history. Founded in 1543, the city became the Spanish colonial capital from which most of Central and South America was once ruled. A wealth of impressive 17th and 18th century buildings, picturesque streets and a friendly population together with excellent restaurants and a variety of cafes and bars, makes Antigua the logical choice as a starting point for travel in Guatemala. The city's setting is stupendous, surrounded as it is by the volcanoes Agua, Fuego and Acatenango. After a leisurely breakfast and welcome briefing with our guide at the hotel, we have a 'familiarisation' walking tour of the city. In the afternoon we depart for Pacaya Volcano (2552 m). Set in its own national park, Pacaya is a storybook volcano with a continuous plume of smoke drifting from its summit. It is approx a 1½ hour drive to the trailhead. The trek starts out steep but quickly backs off and becomes less steep, traversing through agricultural fields and forest. The ascent culminates in a final, steeper section of trail climbing the cinder cone. The ascent is not too difficult nor long, only taking around 2 hours, but does provide an easy acclimatisation walk for our coming climbs. Pacaya's volcanic activity will dictate how close we can get to the edge of the lava streams or cone. We will most likely reach a high point of around 2100m, where we will have excellent views back over Guatemala city and across to Volcanes de Agua, Acatenango and Fuego. We camp tonight on the slopes of Pacaya.

Descend Volcan Pacaya and transfer to Lake Atitlan

After breakfast, our group will break camp and have a relaxed descent of Pacaya's slopes as we move down to the trailhead. We transfer to the town of San Pedro de Laguna on the shores of Lake Atitlan. This small town has become a popular tourist destination due to its spectacular location set between lakes and volcanoes. We will stop along the way at a local restaurant to eat lunch and stretch our legs. The journey will take about four hours, after which we will check into our hotel and have some time to explore the town.

Ascend to summit of Volcan San Pedro (3040m)

Today we will hike the shapely San Pedro, which can be seen very prominently from our hotel. After breakfast, we make the 20 minute drive to the start of the trail at 1800. The path is steep in places as it winds its way, firstly through a large plantation of coffee and then between cornfields, before entering thick cloud forest. The rock stack on the summit of San Pedro is the perfect picnic spot at approximately 3040 meters and provides a superb view of the truly beautiful lake and towns below. After lunch we descend back down the volcanic slopes to our San Pedro hotel where we can enjoy some well-earned relaxation time.

This morning we will travel by boat (approx. 30 minutes) across Lake Atitlan to Santiago Atitlan.

From the dock, we will go to the main plaza at, where we will meet the locals who will help us with the necessary equipment for tonight's camp. Today's hike winds through Santiago's colorful streets until you reach the edge of town and beginning of the trail surrounded by fruit trees, vegetable crops, and cornfields. We will walk for 2 hours on this woody and rocky trail before travelling deeper into the forest. The route through the dense forest takes us to the point where we will camp tonight (3000m). As we enter the humid forest, listen to the sounds of local animals such as deer, Pavo de Cacho hummingbirds, and a variety of other local birds. After 3 hours, we will arrive at our campsite located aside a spectacular rock-shaped cave and setup for the evening. We will rest after a long day of walking with coffee and a rich dinner prepared by the team of guides and support crew.

Both are great places to explore local markets, plazas and historical buildings.

DAY 8

Ascent of Volcan Chicibal (2858m). Explore Chicibal Lagoon. Overnight in Quetzaltenango.

After breakfast we leave Lake Atitlan and drive for 2 hours towards the capital of the Western Highlands, across the high sierra, Quetzaltenango (also known by its Mayan name of Xela). Travelling along the Pan American Highway, we pass its highest point at a place known locally as 'Alaska.' Xela sits at an altitude of 2335m, making it Guatemala's second largest city and the centre of the Quiche Mayan people.

From Xela we continue 1 hour to Laguna Seca, the start of today's walk and our next volcanic objective, Chicibal (2858m). Sacred in Mayan beliefs the Chicibal Volcano is seen as a symbol of the power of nature and religious ceremonies and offerings made to the gods to ask for protection against natural disasters. The lagoon at its crater is considered the centre of Mayan 'Cosmovision' and Mayan traditionalist still use altars along the lakeshore.

Red corrugated roofs dot the farms below as we make our way up, at first, an unpaved road before it forks into two trails. These trails form a loop taking in the summit mirador at descending into the crater to Chicibal Lagoon. After exploring these trails we return to our vehicle and drive on to Lake Atitlan and our hotel for the night.

DAY 9

Ascend to summit of Volcan Tajumulco (4219m) and camp on slopes (3900m).

Today we embark on a stunning climb to Central America's highest point, Volcan Tajumulco. After breakfast we drive from Quetzaltenango to the small village of San Sebastian in San Marcos (approx. 4 hours), which lies close to the border of Mexico and is the starting point for our climb on Tajumulco, the highest of Guatemala's Volcanoes. Starting at 2800 a cobbled street climbs out of the village towards the forest. This initial section can be completed either on foot or by 4x4, you will decide with your guide the best option for your group, and leads up to 3560m and the entrance to the cloud forest. From here it will take around 2 hours to walk through the lush pine forest to our camp for the night, situated at 3900 on the volcano side. Depending on timings we may choose to walk on for another 1.5 hours to reach the highest possible point on this volcano, at 4142m, for a special sunset over the surrounding countryside and breathtaking views eastward along the volcanic chain. We then descend back to the campsite where we will enjoy a delicious dinner prepared by our local chef.

This morning we rise early to climb to Tajumulco's summit for a spectacular sunrise from Central America's highest point. After this incredible experience, we will have breakfast back at the campsite before packing our things and walking back down to the trailhead and Sebastian. The descent will take about 2 hours. We drive for around 4 hours back towards Xela, before continuing to the hot springs at Fuentes Georginas. Fed from the nearby Zunil Volcano the waters are both warm and rich in minerals, with many locals attributing healing powers to this special place. Here we enjoy lunch and use of the hot pools before returning to our hotel in Xela.

Our next objective is Volcan Santa Maria (3770m). We leave early in the morning from our hotel and drive for around 45 minutes, mostly on dirt roads to the start point at the village of Llanos del Pinal (2500m). The trek starts with a gentle climb through fields to the base of the cone then it's very steeply up on a dirt trail. The trail is quite peaty and slippery in places especially after rain. It will take us 4 - 5 hours to reach the summit and here we have truly spectacular views of the active Volcan Santiaguito. Santiaguito, connected to Santa Maria by a saddle is lower than its sister and we have a bird's eye view into its fiery crater and hope to view an eruption. After enjoying lunch at the summit, we return down the trail to Xela to overnight again in Quetzaltenango.

Transfer to Antigua, via the Shrine of San Simon in San Andres Itzapa.

In the morning we drive back to Antigua. The journey to Antigua takes about 3 hours. Along the way we will stop in the town of San Andres Itzapa to visit the shrine of San Simon or El Maximon, as the locals call him. There are many versions of the history of San Simon, but the one most believed is that during the time the Spanish conquest, San Simon was the human reincarnation of Judas, sent back down to Earth to forever beg forgiveness. It is tradition to bear offerings to San Simon, along with wishes; a new car, a hex on a neighbour or even a win on the lottery. The various plaques decorating the walls of the shrine pay tribute to the miracles received by the many who worship him. The temple is a place of great ceremony with ritual fires and sacrifices led by the shamans. San Simon is also said to be the protector of vices, meaning that his holy water is liquor and incense is cigarette or cigar smoke. We arrive into Antigua with a bit of time to get our gear ready for the last two volcanoes.

Ascend Volcan Acatenango (3976m) and descend to campsite on saddle between Acatenango and Fuego (3500m).

Today we enjoy slightly more leisurely start to the morning. The ascent of Guatemala's third highest volcano, Acatenango (3976m), begins with a bumpy ride for 1 hour to La Soledad (2390m). We will camp in the mountains tonight and will once again be supported by a team of porters. The climb is quite steep, but varied and interesting, as we pass through various zones of vegetation; beginning in the cornfields of La Soledad and traversing bamboo clad slopes, then cloud forest and finally pine forest, before finally reaching the summit cone. This is a 5 to 6 hour ascent, with lunch taken on the way. The view from the summit is very impressive, with all of our 'Magnificent Seven' volcanoes visible; from distant Tajumulco to the nearby and spectacularly active Fuego. Our camping place for the next 2 nights is slightly down from the summit, on the tree covered area between Acatenango and Fuego at approximately 3500 metres. This promises to be one of the more remarkable campsites you will ever have stayed at, with the sight of Fuego blowing rocks and dense black clouds into the stratosphere being particularly unforgettable.

Descend from campsite on the slopes of Fuego. Transfer to Antigua. Rest of day to relax.

We are treated to another sunrise in this truly spectacular location, before beginning the long descent of the western slopes of Fuego. The trail begins with an easy traverse through the forest, which in places is quite sparse, permitting us views of both Volcans Fuego and Agua. We plunge down into the denser sub-tropical vegetation of the lower slopes. This will be a tough morning's work and hard on the knees as we follow a twisting, dusty trail down through the forest for 3 to 4 hours to return to the village of La Soledad. Here we are met by our transport and make the short transfer back to our hotel in Antigua. We should be back in time for a late lunch and the rest of the day is free to relax and buy souvenirs from this colonial centre of Antigua.

When booking your holiday, you will be able to 'add an extension option'. Once we have received your booking we will contact you to discuss additional services required for the extension and to take any additional deposit.

Galapagos Islands Cruise

Create the perfect holiday-of-a-lifetime by adding an exploratory cruise of the stunning and unique Galapagos Islands

Needing little in the way of introduction, the Galapagos Islands are one of the most pristine natural environments left on Earth. Over 600 miles separate them from mainland Ecuador, meaning they have enjoyed splendid isolation and provide a habitat for a bewildering array of birds, reptiles, mammals and sea life you simply won't find anywhere else.

We have a variety of ships and itineraries and you can choose from two levels of service - Standard and Upgraded, many of which are more affordable than you may have thought. Itineraries are typically between 7 and 10 days which is the optimum length for visiting this natural paradise. During your cruise you will visit a number of the islands, each distinct and renowned in their own right. Sometimes these will be `dry` landings where you step onto a pier and at others you will make `wet` landings where you reach the island by small inflatable boats and step directly onto the beach. Every boat has a slightly different itinerary but all are focused on seeing as much of the amazing Galapagos wildlife as possible. There is also plenty of time for relaxation and for swimming and snorkelling from the boats. All of our itineraries begin and end in Quito and include the flight out to the islands.

Please contact us for details on availability, itinerary options and pricing. (Sample itinerary detailed below)

You might also want to consider our 10 day Galapagos Islands Adventure, for a more active and immersive experience of these diverse islands. This shore based trip stays in cosy small hotels and guesthouses, allowing us to experience the beaches and wildlife in the early mornings and evenings when the main tourists have disappeared on their boats. Alternatively, if you are looking for something a more luxurious why not spoil yourself on one of our Galapagos Cruises aboard the luxury Monserrat Motor Yacht.

The Mayan City of Tikal

Situated in a remote jungle setting, Tikal is one of the world's premier archaeological sites and one of the Guatemala's most interesting attractions. This was one of the largest and most powerful cities during the Mayan period, dating between 600BC and 900AD. After its decline and eventual collapse, the city was reclaimed by the encroaching jungle and hidden for centuries, until European archaeologists began to excavate the pyramids, plazas and temples in the 1850s. Now a National Park and a UNESCO World Heritage site, it is now possible to explore the ongoing excavations and temples. It isn't only the ruins that impress: the area is part of a biosphere and boasts 285 species of exotic birds and animals and there are hundreds of orchid species.

Holiday Information

What's not Included

- Travel Insurance
- Airport transfers other than group transfers
- Tips
- Miscellaneous expenses - drinks and souvenirs etc

Meal Plan

All meals are included in the holiday price except for lunch on the free day beside Lake Atitlan - Day 7. .

Special Diets

Whilst we can cater for vegetarians, albeit sometimes with a more limited choice, we cannot always provide for special diets. Due to the nature of some of the trips that we operate and the countries in which we operate them, it can be very hard (and sometimes impossible) to cater for a wide range of dietary choices and you may have to supplement your meals with food/snacks from home. If you have specific dietary requirements please do speak to our sales team and they will be able to advise you whether or not we will be able to offer your specific choice. Please note that we are unable to provide separate menus and cannot accept liability for any problems arising from special dietary requirements or intolerances.

Food & Water

Drinking Water

It is not recommended to drink untreated water from the taps. If you are on a trekking or cycling holiday, water is supplied to fill up your individual bottles. This will be boiled, filtered or provided in large jerry cans or 5 litre bottles. Additionally you should take purification tablets or a filter bottle (such as a Water-To-Go bottle) to treat your water when in towns or where water is not supplied. We do not encourage the purchasing of single use plastic bottles.

Antigua has a bewildering array of restaurants serving international cuisine and your trip leader will take you to some of the best. In Quetzaltenango the choice is not as wide ranging but still there are several restaurants serving a variety of foods both local and international. During the camping nights you will have a cooked meal prepared from fresh local ingredients. The picnic lunches during the trek consist of salad, bread, pasta, cheese, cooked meats, and fresh fruit. Mineral water as well as tea or coffee is provided.

Accommodation

We will spend 6 nights in comfortable hotels in Antigua and Quetzaltenango, and 4 nights at a comfortable hotel on the shores of Lake Atitlan. All rooms are en-suite. There will also be a total of 4 nights camping.

Accommodation is based on twin share. If you are travelling by yourself, you will be paired up with another single client of the same sex. Single rooms are available for a supplementary cost. If you are planning to extend your holiday, additional nights at the group hotel are available on request.

Group Leader & Support Staff

The group will be led by a professional and qualified tour leader. In addition, whilst trekking, the group will be supported by a full crew of camp staff and porters.

Altitude

This holiday involves going to high altitude. During the course of your trip you will reach altitudes in excess of 3500 metres. This is not something that you should worry about; the human body is quite capable of adapting to a very wide range of altitudes, but it is important that we follow some simple rules in order to acclimatise successfully. Before coming on this holiday you should read the advice on trekking at high altitude. You can also talk to one of our trekking experts if you have any concerns about altitude.

Spending Money

A total of US $250 - 300 should be sufficient to cover your personal spending including tips for drivers and trek staff, miscellaneous expenditure on drinks, souvenirs etc. It is possible to use credit and debit cards to withdraw money from ATMs in Antigua and Quetzaltenango. This is usually at the best available exchange rate but you may be charged by your bank or card company. If you are bringing your travel money from the UK you should bring US$ rather than sterling and we recommend that you use cash rather than travellers cheques, since you will exchange the majority of this on the day after your arrival in Guatemala. The local currency is the Quetzal (named after the national bird). It is not necessary to obtain local currency ahead of your visit and you will have an opportunity to change money on the day following your arrival. US dollars are accepted as payment in most restaurants and shops in Antigua but not necessarily outside this city

Guidance on Tipping

Tips are the accepted way of saying 'thank you' to your local guides and porters. They do not form part of their wages. KE always pays local crews the best rates of pay, no matter what country they are in and any tips they receive are seen as a personal thank you from group members. For our part, we advise local teams that tips are not a duty or a prerequisite but are a bonus and entirely dependent on the service that was given. For your guides and support staff we recommend that you give a tip if you feel that their services have met your satisfaction. We recommend that tips be given from the group as a whole and as a rough guide we suggest that a contribution from each group member of around $75 - $100, should provide a sufficient 'pool' for tips.

Baggage Allowance

There is no restriction on the weight of your trek bag other than that imposed by your airline. However, you will have a more comfortable travel experience if you pack as light as possible. During the camping nights the essential equipment you need will be carried by porters or pack animals. We recommend that you bring a small foldable waterproof bag to put this in while your main baggage remains in the hotel or support vehicle.

Group Size & Holiday Status

For each holiday there is a minimum number of participants required to enable it to go ahead. Once the minimum number is reached, the trip status will change from 'Available' to 'Guaranteed to run'. You can check the trip status for each departure in the 'Dates and Prices' table. Other than in exceptional circumstances, we will not cancel a trip once it has achieved this guaranteed to run status so you are free to proceed with your international flight booking and other travel arrangements.

A passport with 6 months remaining validity at the end of your stay is generally required, and you should have at least 2 blank pages for each country that you visit.

Severe Allergies:

If you have a severe allergy please inform the KE office before you travel. We will do all we can to help, but we cannot guarantee an allergy free environment on KE trips.

Currency

The unit of currency in Guatemala is the Quetzal (named after the national bird).

Preparing for your Holiday

It makes a lot of sense to spend some time before coming on a walking holiday, getting some additional exercise. The fitter you are, after all, the more enjoyable you will find your holiday. Although the overall grade of this trip is moderate, some of the ascents will challenge even regular hill walkers and it is a good idea to get in shape before heading out on your holiday. We suggest that you adopt a weekly exercise regime. Regular hiking in hill country is the best preparation but if this is not possible, then running, cycling and swimming are also good for developing better stamina and general cardio-vascular fitness. Before departure, we suggest that you try to fit in a number of long walks in hilly country.

Climate

From the middle of October through to the start of March the average daytime temperature in the high sierra will range from 17 to 25°C. Whilst in Antigua and at Lake Atitlan, temperatures are unlikely to fall below 15°C, even at night. At our highest camps, temperatures will fall to around 5°C at night. The time of year that we have chosen for our visits to Guatemala coincides with a mainly dry period, at least on the Pacific side of Guatemala. However, there is the possibility of showers in the afternoons when climbing the volcanoes.

Travel Aware

As a reputable tour operator, KE supports the British Foreign, Commonwealth and Development Office's 'Travel Aware' campaign to enable British citizens to prepare for their journeys overseas. The 'Travel Aware' website provides a single, authoritative source of advice for all kinds of travellers and we recommend that before travel, all KE clients visit the official UK Government website at travelaware.campaign.gov.uk and read the FCDO Travel Advice for their chosen destination. North Americans can also check out the U.S. Department of State website: www.travel.state.gov for essential travel advice and tips.

KE treat the safety and security of all clients as the most important aspect of any trip we organise. We would not run any trip that we did not consider reasonably safe. Should the FCDO advise against travel for any reason, we will contact everyone booked to travel to discuss the situation. We receive regular updates directly from the FCDO and are in constant touch with our contacts on the ground. If you have any questions about government travel advice, please call our office.

Single Use Plastic

KE do not encourage the use of single use plastic items. We are ensuring that our agents all over the world are working together to reduce the problem and educate those around them. We are leading by example in our KE office by reducing our plastic use.

Travel Insurance

It is an essential condition of joining a holiday with KE Adventure Travel that you have a valid travel insurance policy to cover the cost of medical treatment and to protect the value of your holiday in the event of cancellation. When taking out insurance please ensure the policy you choose covers you for the activities and altitude included in your itinerary.

For appropriate insurance cover we recommend Campbell Irvine Direct. Please go to our Travel Insurance page for further information and to get a quote.

Notes:

This is not a sustained trekking trip and there are only 4 nights when we are camping. On each of the camping nights, you will be asked to restrict your personal equipment to a few essential items, including your sleeping bag and camping mattress. This equipment will be separated from your trek bag and repacked into communal kitbags for the porters or pack-horses to carry. To help to keep these items clean and dry, you should take with you on the trip a suitable, large and waterproof bag, such as a plastic bivvy bag, rucksack liner or equivalent. Your trek bag, with the bulk of your spare clothing etc, will remain in safe storage at the group's hotel during the time when we are camping.

*Equipment Hire / Rental: Sleeping bags in standard and long (taller than 6 foot) sizes and an inflatable camping mattress can be hired from KE. You can reserve your bag when you book your trip or closer to your departure but we advise booking hire equipment as soon as possible to ensure availability.
