Introduction

This 12 day Peruvian adventure begins with time to explore Cusco and the Sacred Valley, takes in a classic 5-day trek beneath the snow-capped peak of Salkantay (6270m), before visiting the iconic Machu Picchu. Taking a day in Cusco to acclimatize to the higher altitudes, we will explore all of the main sights before heading across the altiplano to the Sacred Valley where we will visit the Ollantaytambo and the Maras Salt Pans before starting our trek. Our trail through the Cordillera Vilcabamba will take us on a scenic journey through some of Peru's most beautiful and diverse landscapes. As we traverse around Mount Salkantay (approaching Machu Picchu in the opposite direction to the Inca Trail), we will pass through small traditional Andean communities, cocoa and coffee plantations, high altitude jungles, passing forgotten Inca ruins along the way.

We will also cross the Salkantay Pass (4600m) where we will get some exquisite Andean views! Being less well-known than the 'Inca Trail' the Salkantay Trail also offers tranquil camping spots and peaceful paths. At the end of our trek we will take a short train transfer to Aguas Calientes, from where we spend a day at Machu Picchu to discovering all the secrets of this most magnificent of Inca ruins. Returning to Cusco we have a final day at leisure to soak up the atmosphere of this Incan Capital.

Is this holiday for you?

This is a classic adventure holiday offering an exciting mix of classic trekking and cultural discovery. During our 5 day trek most of the walking is on well-defined tracks, including sections of ancient Inca highways, which are paved with stone, rocky trails and agricultural paths. This holiday is perfect for fit and active adventurers who are comfortable with walking for 5 or 6 hours each day with the occasional longer day. You will encounter some reasonable amounts of ascents and descents on some days. This is a fully supported trek, and you will only be required to carry your day pack each day. Our friendly camp crew will take care of all the camp chores, so when in camp you can relax, rest and enjoy the views. To help you acclimatise and enjoy the trekking section of your holiday, we have allowed 3 nights at around 3000 metres, before we start walking. Not only does this help you acclimatise, it also allows the chance to enjoy exploring all the sites in Cusco and around the Sacred Valley!

DAY 1

Meet at the group hotel in Cusco. Transfers from the airport to hotel are provided.

Arriving into the former Inca capital of Southern Peru, we are met by our guide. Airport transfers are provided for clients arriving on this day. Having checked into our group hotel, this afternoon is free to wander the cobble streets or sit and admire the blend of Inca and colonial architecture of this vibrant town. As we are now at an altitude of 3400m, the perfect arrival activity is to relax in the hotel or one of the many cafes in Cusco's main square, the Plaza de Armas and enjoy the sights and sounds of Cusqueñan life. In the evening we meet up for a group dinner in one of many restaurants that overlook the square.

A day for acclimatisation and sightseeing in Cusco, including guided visits to the main Inca sites.

Once the heart of the Inca Empire, we set out to explore this fascinating city on foot. Brimming with Inca and Spanish heritage, steep, narrow cobble streets lead to neighbouring San Blas and San Cristobal where iconic Incan masonry sits against classic Spanish architecture. The centrepiece of Cuzco is undoubtedly the Plaza de Armas, and its extravagant church, the Iglesia del Triunfo dating back to 14th century. A highlight of the tour is our visit to the impressive fortress citadel of Sacsayhuaman, which is set high above Cusco and is one of South America's archaeological treasures as the fortress being constructed of large stones cut to fit without mortar.

Drive to the Sacred Valley of the Incas, trek through the Maras salt pans and Ollantaytambo ruins.

Departing by private bus, we take an early morning drive to the Sacred Valley via the ancient Andean village of Chinchero. With its impressive main square and mountain views, Chinchero is an excellent introduction to the delights of the Sacred Valley. Taking an exploratory walk, we head for the salt-producing ponds of Maras, which has been traditionally harvested by community members since pre-Inca times. We continue by road to Ollantaytambo, a village whose narrow cobbled streets and wonderful examples of Inca architecture make it a perfect base from which to set out on our trekking adventure.

DAY 4

Begin trekking at Mollepata in the high Andes to our first campsite at Soraypampa (3869m).

This morning our scenic drive heads south west of Ollantaytambo to the picturesque village of Mollepata with panoramic views of Salcantay Mountain. Nestled in the High Andes, we meet our trek crew and begin our well-paced walk, ascending through Andean villages to Challacancha (3650m) where we will have lunch. We then enjoy a beautiful afternoon walk arriving to our camp at Soraypampa, enjoying the first night in the mountains (3869m).

DAY 5

Trek to Salcantaypampa (4100m).

After breakfast we leave the campsite and begin our hike uphill for 2hrs30 to visit the Humantay Lagoon (4260m), characterised by its impressive turquoise colour. If the weather is clear, it offers superb views of the great snow peaks of Humantay and Salcantay. We will then return to our camp to have lunch before starting the walk to our second camp. We continue through a broad glacial valley towards the enormous moraine that comes out of Mount Salkantay (6270m) to the second camp in Salkantaypampa (4100m). This is a beautifully grassy area at the foot of this huge moraine where we can view two rapid flowing highland streams that run off the great glaciers of this classic Andean massif.

DAY 6

Trek over the Salkantay Pass (4683m) and long descent to Andenes (3900m)

Hiking further into the national park, we climb up into the company of snowy peaks and have spectacular views over the sacred Incan peak, Salkantay at 6270m, located within the heart of the Vilcabamba Range. Towering above us, the south face of Mt Salkantay is the most impressive and is very popular with climbers. With our objective in sight, we continue this challenging day, heading over the Salkantay Pass (4683m) pausing to enjoy the mountain vista. We also get our first views down towards the lowlands forest in which our trekking objective, Machu Picchu, is set. From the pass we descend across rocky terrain to the campsite at Huayracmachay (3900m) where we will have lunch. We continue our descent along the banks of the Salkantay River, through increasingly verdant scenery. Surrounded by colourful butterflies and striking orchids we arrive at our camp at Andenes (3900m), a beautiful spot surrounded by vegetation.

DAY 7

Final day of trekking through coffee, banana and avocado plantations to Lucambamba.

Today we descend through the high pampa, into warm lush vegetation as we follow the Santa Teresa River. With a superb riverside lunch stop we continue walking through banana, granadilla and avocado plantations along the way. This region of Peru is also well-known for its coffee production and is said to produce the finest organic beans in South America! An hour after lunch we meet our vehicle for a short drive to the beginning of the Lactapta Inca Trail. On this newly restored Inca Trail we make our way to our last campsite at Lucmabamba. In the evening we may sample the local coffee beans during a tasting demonstration hosted by a local family.

DAY 8Cross the Llaqta Pass (2736m) and descend to Aguas Calientes.

Trekking ever closer towards Machu Picchu we tackle the Llaqta pass (2736m) and descend towards the ancient terraces of Patallacta. Believed to be a stopping point for those travelling to and from Machu Picchu, many of the buildings within the site are well preserved, despite being burned by Incan soldiers during their retreat from the Conquistadors. Trekking onwards to Intihuatana it is possible to gain our first glimpses of Machu Picchu from the South East. Continuing our descent through bamboo forest we reach the Machu Picchu Hydroelectric Station, where we take a short and scenic train ride to Aguas Calientes, the gateway to Machu Picchu. Where we check in to our hotel and can enjoy a celebratory dinner.

DAY 9Guided visit to Machu Picchu and return to Cusco.

Today we visit Machu Picchu, the site that was lost to the jungle but rediscovered in 1911 by the Yale academic, Hiram Bingham. Declared a UNESCO world heritage site in 1983, Machu Picchu exceeds all expectations. Perched high on an inaccessible hilltop the citadel is protected by huge cliffs and the raging Urubamba River. The bus transfer up to the site takes around 20 minutes and saves us from the relentlessly steep climb. A local guide will give us an interpretive tour of Machu Picchu and we will have ample time to soak up the mystical atmosphere of this incredible site. After the tour of the main buildings and structures with our expert guide, we can discover hidden corners of the ruins, or just soak up the atmosphere of one of the most famous places on earth. Returning to Aguas Calientes by bus, we take a train back to Ollantaytambo and then drive in our private vehicle to Cusco where we check into our group hotel.

Extensions

When booking your holiday, you will be able to 'add an extension option'. Once we have received your booking we will contact you to discuss additional services required for the extension and to take any additional deposit.

Peru Rainforest Extension

Visit Tambopata National Reserve, a haven of pristine Amazon wilderness where the river provides access to an uninhabited and vast 2.5 million acre area, home to the Amazon's five top predators - Jaguar, Giant Otter, Black Caiman, Harpy Eagle and Anaconda. It is a short flight to Puerto Maldonado, and then a ride in a motorised canoe to our jungle lodge. Highlights are the macaw clay-lick, otters, monkeys and an array of colourful birds.

Galapagos Islands Cruise

Situated over 600 miles from the mainland of South America, the remote archipelago of the Galapagos Islands needs little introduction. The Galapagos Islands are considered to be the crown jewels of the natural world, achieving near mythological status following visits by Charles Darwin. It was on his second visit aboard HMS Beagle in 1835 that Darwin's scientific studies introduced the world to the theory of evolution. The islands teem with life, much of which seem totally unphased and perhaps curious of visitors. Of the thirteen major islands, on five have any form of human habitation. The environmental footprint is kept to an absolute minimum, allowing you, the visitor, a chance to explore the incredible biodiversity of these famous islands untouched by human development. Expect close encounters with blue-footed boobies, frigate birds, albatross, giant tortoises, seals, turtles and dinosaur-like lizards amongst many, many other examples.

Joining Arrangements & Transfers

Cusco Airport transfers are provided for all clients arriving on the group days. At the end of the trip, a single-timed transfer will be provided from Cusco to the airport in the early morning. If you wish to stay longer in Cusco, later transfers can be booked at additional cost.

Meal Plan

All breakfasts, 5 lunches and 4 dinners are included in the holiday price. Where there are a wide range of dining options to suit all tastes and budgets it is sensible to leave this choice to you and therefore we have not included meals (other than breakfasts) while staying in Cusco, Ollantaytambo and Aguas Calientes (Machu Picchu Pueblo). You will pay directly for a total of 5 lunches and 6 dinners. While trekking a full trek service including all meals is provided.

Food & Water

It is not recommended to drink untreated water from the taps. If you are on a trekking or cycling holiday, water is supplied to fill up your individual bottles. This will be boiled, filtered or provided in large jerry cans or 5 litre bottles. Additionally you should take purification tablets or a filter bottle (such as a Water-To-Go bottle) to treat your water when in towns or where water is not supplied. We do not encourage the purchasing of single use plastic bottles.

On trek the food provided will be a mixture of local and worldwide favourites, with all ingredients purchased in Peru and cooked for us by highly trained staff cooks. The food our cooks are able to produce on trek will be a taste sensation! Breakfast includes fresh fruit, porridge, pancakes or omelette with plenty of toast and home-made jam. Lunch is usually a picnic - fresh fruit, salad and bread, cheeses, cold meats, avocado and plenty to drink. Dinner is served in the mess tent and is a delicious three-course meal and the menus will be flavoursome and varied. There will be no problem catering for vegetarians.

In Cusco, Ollantaytambo and Aguas Calientes there is a wide range of restaurants cafes and bars serving excellent and varied cuisine! Meals, apart from breakfast, are not included here so you are free to make your own choice of restaurant and menu. If you are looking to sample some traditional Peruvian fare we can recommend trying Ceviche, a dish of raw fished marinated in citrus juice (the acid in the citrus juice effectively 'cooks' the fish), which is the unofficial national dish of Peru! The name Ceviche actually comes from the Quechua word 'siwichi', meaning fresh fish. Guinea Pig or 'Cuy' is also a common delicacy in the Andes and has been eaten at special occasions since the time of the Incas! Usually served roasted or barbequed, Guinea Pig meat has a gamey taste. It is very high in protein and low in cholesterol.

When it comes to drinks, before and during your trek we can recommend drinking Mate de Coca. It takes a little time to acclimatise to Cusco's 3400m elevation and one of the things that is said to help acclimatisation is supping this mildly stimulating, greenish and unusual tasting 'tea' made by steeping fresh coca leaves in boiling water. Those looking to celebrate the end of their holiday with an alcoholic beverage (best saved till post trek when you are fully acclimatised!) should seek out a 'Pisco Sour'. This classic South American cocktail, made by mixing the Peruvian liquor Pisco with lime juice, egg white and bitters, is incredibly moreish!

Accommodation

During the holiday there are a total of 4 nights in a comfortable and well located 3* hotel in Cusco, which is a beautifully converted old colonial house and just a short walk from the Plaza de Armas. We will also spend 1 night in a comfortable and well located hotel in Ollantaytambo in the Sacred Valley, and 1 night in a comfortable and well located 3* hotel in Aguas Calientes (Machu Picchu Pueblo).

Whilst trekking there will be a total of 4 nights camping where you will receive a full service from our friendly camp crew. You will sleep in roomy 2 man dome tents, with a porch, and inflatable camping mattresses are provided. All the camp equipment and luggage will be transported between camps by mules, so you need only carry your day pack each day. Our camp crew will erect and dismantle the tents for you, cook, and take care of all the camp chores.

During walking days, having stayed behind to collapse camp, it is usual for the crew and the pack animals to overtake the group during the day and you will usually arrive into camp to find it already established and the kettle on!

In camp, as well as the tents used for sleeping, there will also be a mess tent, with chairs and tables, where the group will dine (and socialise into the evening) and a toilet tent. Hot water for washing will also be provided to you in the mornings and when you arrive at the camp each day.

All accommodation is allocated on a twin-sharing basis. If you are travelling by yourself you will be paired up with another single client of the same sex. It is possible to hire a single tent while on trek for an additional cost. This must be arranged ahead of departure and is subject to availability (please note that single tent hire does not include single rooms in hotels). Depending on availability, it may also be possible to pre-book single hotel rooms. For additional hotel prices and single supplement costs please refer to the dates and prices page of the trip on our website.

Group Leader & Support Staff

The group will be led by a professional and qualified tour leader. Whilst on trek the group will be supported by a full trek crew including camp assistants, cook, baggage animals and their handlers.

Altitude

This holiday involves going to high altitude. During the course of your trip you will reach altitudes in excess of 3500 metres. This is not something that you should worry about; the human body is quite capable of adapting to a very wide range of altitudes, but it is important that we follow some simple rules in order to acclimatise successfully. Before coming on this holiday you should read the advice on trekking at high altitude on our website which can be viewed via the link below. You can also talk to one of our trekking experts if you have any concerns about altitude. www.keadventure.com/page/altitude.html

Park Fees & Permits

New regulations for visiting Machu Picchu came into force in 2022.

Daily visitor numbers are limited and visitors must be accompanied by a guide on one of five designated 'circuits' that are walked in a one-way direction, with a maximum of 4 hours allowed within the site.

A ticket, issued by the Peru Ministry of Culture, and included in your trip cost, needs to be purchased in advance of your visit. The ticket will stipulate an entry time and one of the 5 circuits. KE will aim to book the most comprehensive Machu Picchu tour available.

Tickets are linked to your name and passport number and usually sell out 2-3 months in advance. It is therefore important for you to supply us with your passport details at the time of booking to allow us to secure the required tickets.

If you are completing the Inca Trail, a set Machu Picchu circuit is included with your Inca Trail Permit.

IMPORTANT: If you change passport between booking and travelling, you must bring your old passport with you, as your ticket will be linked to the passport details you booked with.

Spending Money

We estimate that $350-400 (or equivalent in €/£) will be sufficient to cover your requirements including the non-included meals and incidental expenses such as tips for drivers, trek crew and local guides. There are a total of 5 lunches and 6 dinners which you will need to pay for directly and we recommend you budget $10 - $25 dollars per meal. There is no need to purchase local currency (Peruvian Soles) prior to travelling. It is possible to withdraw your money in local currency from ATMs in Cusco. If you are bringing your travel money with you we recommend you bring it in the form of US dollars in cash as this provides for the easiest exchange. Credit cards can be used to purchase goods and to pay for meals in Cusco, Ollantaytambo and Aguas Calientes.

Guidance on Tipping

Tipping is common in Peru, however you must remember that it is voluntary, and how much you give depends on how you feel about the service you have received. Airport baggage carriers are the only exception and tipping is compulsory. These people are unwaged and make a living by carrying your luggage. The general rule is 1 or 2 soles per bag. For hotel staff, tipping is not expected, but is welcome. For hotel porters 1 or 2 soles per bag is reasonable. Drivers of standard taxis do not usually expect a tip. As with most countries, it is usual to tip in restaurants and 10% is expected for good service. For the support crew on trek (guides, cooks, porters etc.), it is recommended that each client contributes around £50 to £60 to a group tipping pool.

Baggage Allowance

For this holiday you should take one piece of luggage, which should be a soft and sturdy duffel bag, and a day pack. Your bag on trek will be carried by porters or pack animals and should not weigh more than 15kg. It is possible to leave clothes and other items not required on trek at the group hotel in Cusco. For international flights please check your baggage allowance with your airline.

Group Size & Holiday Status

For each holiday there is a minimum number of participants required to enable it to go ahead. Once the minimum number is reached, the trip status will change from 'Available' to 'Guaranteed to run'. You can check the trip status for each departure in the 'Dates and Prices' table. Other than in exceptional circumstances, we will not cancel a trip once it has achieved this guaranteed to run status so you are free to proceed with your international flight booking and other travel arrangements.

General Information

Passport & Visas

The information that we provide is for UK passport holders. A passport with 6 months remaining validity at the end of your stay is generally required, and you should have at least 2 blank pages for each country that you visit.

It is your responsibility to ensure that you have the correct travel documents and visas for your holiday. Please ensure that you check for the latest advice before travel. For the most up to date information on entry requirements, please visit the UK Government website.

Visa Peru

UK and USA passport holders do not require a visa for short stays. When passing through immigration you will need to request a copy of your TAM Migration form. You will need to retain this document and keep it safe, as you will be asked to produce it before you depart Peru. Please note that a paper copy of travel insurance is required for people travelling to Huaraz and the Huayhuash region.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION FOR THOSE TRANSITING THROUGH THE USA

You will require an ESTA (Electronic System for Travel Authorisation), and you must get this before boarding any US-bound aircraft or ship, or entering on a land border. The fee is USD$21 and you should apply for it at <https://esta.cbp.dhs.gov/esta/>. With the ESTA complete, the majority of British Citizen passport holders can enter the US under the Visa Waiver Programme, VWP. You will be required to have a passport with an integrated chip. Note that if you have travelled to Cuba, Iran, Syria or North Korea since March 2011* you will have to apply for a visa rather than the Visa Waiver Programme (* a full and up to date list of countries can be found on the US government website here.)

IMPORTANT INFORMATION FOR THOSE TRANSITING THROUGH CANADA

All citizens (except for USA citizens) will require an eTA (Electronic Travel Authorisation), and you must get this before boarding any Canada-bound aircraft or ship, or entering on a land border. The fee is CAD$7 and you should apply for it at <http://www.cic.gc.ca/english/visit/eta-start.asp>

Health & Vaccinations

If you have a severe allergy please inform the KE office before you travel. We will do all we can to help, but we cannot guarantee an allergy free environment on KE trips. You will need to carry your own treatment for the allergy with you, as 'adrenaline auto-injectors' are not carried as standard by KE leaders and staff. You should inform your leader on arrival of your allergy, and let them know where you keep your adrenaline pen.

Dengue fever is a known risk in places visited. It is a tropical viral disease spread by daytime biting mosquitoes. There is currently no vaccine or prophylaxis available and therefore the best form of prevention is to avoid being bitten. We recommend you take precautions to avoid mosquito bites.

Zika virus has been confirmed as active in this country. It is a tropical viral disease spread by daytime biting mosquitoes. There is currently no vaccine or prophylaxis available and therefore the best form of prevention is to avoid being bitten. We recommend you take the usual precautions to avoid mosquito bites. The mosquitoes that transmit ZIKV are unlikely to be found above 2,000m altitude. For more information, visit the website of the National Travel Network and Centre (NaTHNaC) at <https://travelhealthpro.org.uk>

Vaccinations

You should contact your doctor or travel clinic to check whether you require any specific vaccinations or other preventive measures. You should be up to date with routine courses and boosters as recommended in the UK e.g. diphtheria-tetanus-polio and measles-mumps-rubella, along with hepatitis A and typhoid.

Malarial prophylaxis is not usually required for trips in the mountains, however if you are visiting rural and remote low lying areas then they might be necessary.

On holidays to more remote areas you should also have a dentist check up. A good online resource is Travel Health Pro.

Preparing for your Holiday

It makes a lot of sense to spend some time before coming on a trekking or climbing trip getting some additional exercise. The fitter you are, after all, the more enjoyable you will find the experience. Our treks can be physically demanding, but more as a result of altitude and terrain than distances walked. We would suggest that you adopt a weekly exercise regime. Jogging, squash and swimming are good for developing aerobic fitness and better stamina. You should gradually increase your exercise leading up to departure, and in the month before setting off, we suggest that you try to fit in a number of long walks in hilly country.

Climate

The climate of Peru is very varied across different regions. For each region the determining factors are its latitude, its distance from the coast and most importantly, its altitude. The climate of the Andean valleys which corresponds to the region between 3000 and 4000 metres is characterised by hot wet summers and cool dry winters. The Southern Hemisphere winter season in the Andes runs roughly from April through to October and this is the optimum period for trekking in this part of Peru. At this time we can expect the days to be warm and generally sunny, with temperatures between 12 and 20°C (54 - 68°F). Above c. 3500m. / 11,000ft. during this season, the night-time temperatures will fall below freezing. At our highest camps we might experience night-time temperatures as low as -5°C / 23°F at any time and in mid-winter (July and August) temperatures may dip to -10°C / 14°F overnight. As with all mountain areas, short-lived storms can occur at any time of the year.

Travel Aware

As a reputable tour operator, KE supports the British Foreign, Commonwealth and Development Office's 'Travel Aware' campaign to enable British citizens to prepare for their journeys overseas. The 'Travel Aware' website provides a single, authoritative source of advice for all kinds of travellers and we recommend that before travel, all KE clients visit the official UK Government website at travelaware.campaign.gov.uk and read the FCDO Travel Advice for their chosen destination. North Americans can also check out the U.S. Department of State website: www.travel.state.gov for essential travel advice and tips.

KE treat the safety and security of all clients as the most important aspect of any trip we organise. We would not run any trip that we did not consider reasonably safe. Should the FCDO advise against travel for any reason, we will contact everyone booked to travel to discuss the situation. We receive regular updates directly from the FCDO and are in constant touch with our contacts on the ground. If you have any questions about government travel advice, please call our office.

Single Use Plastic

KE do not encourage the use of single use plastic items. We are ensuring that our agents all over the world are working together to reduce the problem and educate those around them. We are leading by example in our KE office by reducing our plastic use.

Maps

Inca Trail - Machu Picchu. 1:50,000 Editorial Lima 2000

This topographic map from the Lima-based publisher Lima 2000 shows from Kilometre 88 to Machu Picchu. Peak altitudes and shading show relief and the contours interval is 100m. The map shows towns and villages, roads and footpaths, rivers, ruins, terraces etc. A small inset shows a street plan of Aguas Calientes, another shows the Machu Picchu ruins.

Travel Insurance

It is an essential condition of joining a holiday with KE Adventure Travel that you have a valid travel insurance policy to cover the cost of medical treatment and to protect the value of your holiday in the event of cancellation. When taking out insurance please ensure the policy you choose covers you for the activities and altitude included in your itinerary.

For appropriate insurance cover we recommend Campbell Irvine Direct. Please go to our Travel Insurance page for further information and to get a quote.

Flight Inclusive Information

The FLIGHT INCLUSIVE dates and prices are based on UK flights from London (Heathrow) to Cusco, with LATAM or Iberia. Outbound flights depart from the UK in the evening, arriving into Cusco on the following day (Day 1 of the Land Only itinerary). Return flights depart from Cusco Airport in the afternoon of the last day of the Land Only itinerary, arriving in the UK in the morning of the following day. Regional departures and/or alternative carriers are available on request.

Please be aware that there are often only a limited number of seats available at the advertised price. To avoid paying flight supplements, we recommend that you book as early as possible, especially during peak times. If we are unable to secure seats at the price shown, or you have requested regional departures, we will contact you with an alternative quote. Please note that you may be asked to pay for your flights in advance of your final holiday balance. Note that if you book a package including flights with KE you will benefit from full financial protection.

Why Choose KE

Why KE

KE's Salkantay Trail to Machu Picchu is an incredible alternative to the Inca Trail. A quieter and more remote trail, you will trek old Incan routes passing ruins, stunning mountain panoramas and unique flora and fauna. With time to explore Cusco and the Sacred Valley this provides an excellent mix of history and culture with a fantastic mountain journey, culminating in a visit to one of the most famous sites in the world, Macchu Picchu. With no permits required this alternative Incan Trail makes for a great choice of trek to Macchu Picchu.
