Introduction

Four hundred kilometres north of the Canary Islands, the Portuguese island of Madeira is known as the 'Island of Eternal Spring' on account of its welcoming climate and floral diversity. Popular with hikers, drawn to its rugged landscape and unique 'levada' trails, Madeira also works fantastically well as a holiday destination for confident cyclists seeking a challenge. You can witness the island's distinct charm for yourself on this one week self-guided cycling holiday as you circumnavigate the island on generally quiet roads that twist and turn, almost always within sight of the Atlantic Ocean. We include a number of short vehicle transfers to overcome the longest climbs, but there's still plenty of climbing to be done - all of course at your own pace. Madeira is a revelation with its pretty villages, ancient laurel forest, vivid birdlife, colourful botanical gardens, volcanic geology and breathtaking coastal scenery. Culturally, too, the island is special; colonised by the Portuguese in the 15th Century and boasting a rich history as a focal point of Atlantic trade routes and as a producer of sugar cane. Magnificent manor houses (known as quintas) and monumental fortresses bear witness to the island's colourful past.

You will spend 5 days circumnavigating the island, staying in a fantastic selection of 4* hotels (1 night in a special 2* hotel beside the sea) on a bed and breakfast basis. Plus, we have included 2 nights in the island's capital of Funchal with a day off the bikes for you to do some exploring.

Is this holiday for you?

If you're a regular cyclist with a good level of fitness and looking for somewhere different for your next holiday on 2 wheels, this could be for you. We have included 5 days of cycling, covering a total of 190 kilometres on quiet roads. Averaging less than 40 kilometres per day, the distances are not great, but the distinctly undulating nature of the terrain, including some long climbs, makes this probably our most challenging self-guided cycling holidays. Taking each day's ride at your own pace, there will be lots of time to stop and to take in the sights. Plus, with the option to upgrade to an e-bike, you can always opt for a little extra pedal power on the hills. With comfortable, generally 4-star, accommodation throughout, you will have everything you need to relax on the completion of each day's activities.

Itinerary

Version: SGMM Self-Guided Cycling on Madeira

DAY 1

Arrive at your hotel in Canico and take a stroll to the nearby botanical gardens.

Check in at your hotel in the charming coastal village of Canico which is on Madeira's south coast and just a handful of kilometres from both Funchal to the west and the island's airport at Santa Cruz to the east. Like many places on the island, Canico sits within a rugged volcanic landscape and there is lots to see and do. Depending on your time of arrival, you may wish to visit one of the nearby black pebbly beaches for a dip. Or check out the Quinta Splendida Botanical Gardens which features more than 1000 species of plants and flowers, many of them native to Madeira. There's also a pleasant promenade, perfect for an evening stroll beside the sea.

DAY 2

Cycle on a high road with far-reaching views from Camacha to Porto da Cruz.

Your first day of cycling begins with a short transfer inland (and 700 metres uphill) to Camacha, where your bikes will be waiting for you. This village is famous for its basket and wicker furniture making and the local craftsmen give regular displays in a warehouse on the main square. Having picked up your bike, you'll cycle on a lovely high road towards the eastern end of the island. This road contours around and offers great views eastwards to the long and dramatic promontory of the Ponta de Sao Lourenco. The route undulates a little before dropping down to the little fishing village of Porto da Cruz. Here, you may wish to spend some time on the black sandy beach or take a swim in the village's fantastic swimming complex which consists of 2 pools, a sun terrace and restaurant area - perfect for relaxing after your journey. Alternatively, you may wish to delve straight into the culture of the island and pay a visit to the last remaining sugar mill on the island where they have been processing the sugar since 1927. Sugar cane was one of the main agricultural produces on the island and at the distillery you can sample 'poncha', a popular local drink made from sugar cane liquor, honey and freshly squeezed orange juice.

Discover Madeira's north coast on a ride from Santana to Sao Vicente.

Another short transfer is provided this morning to overcome what would otherwise be a long, steep ascent on the bike. You'll be dropped off in the town of Santana, known for its colourful Madeiran houses (known as 'casas de colmo') with their distinctive triangular shape and high pitched thatched roofs. This part of the island is comprised of six parishes which have been awarded World Heritage status for the continuation of traditional crafts and agricultural way of life. From Santana, your cycle route follows a beautiful road, heading generally westwards through pretty villages and with spectacular coastal panoramas from several prominent viewpoints. The route twists and turns across the landscape and there's a fair bit of up and down too. You'll see lots of fertile agricultural land where the villagers grow sugar cane, vegetables, and sweet smelling fruits including wine grapes. A final stretch from Ponta Delgada skirts the edge of the sea to your home for the night in Sao Vicente. This pretty seaside town, nestling between high promontories has a long beach and is famous for its caves of volcanic origin.

DAY 4

Enjoy a stunning descent from the mountains to the sea at Porto Moniz.

You will be picked up again after breakfast and driven up into the centre of the island to begin your ride on the high plateau of Paul da Serra at around 1500 metres elevation. On the way you'll pass through some of the island's important laurisilva forest which is protected under UNESCO's World Heritage Convention. From your starting point today, if it's clear, you can see the sea in both directions, north and south. Grazing cows and sheep line the route as you set off on what is essentially a long descent to the north-western point of the island at Porto Moniz. Leaving the plateau behind, you'll follow an amazing ridge-top road which continues to descend steadily, offering fantastic views on all sides. Arriving at your hotel you should have plenty of time to check out the excellent natural seawater pools, popular with locals and visitors, that are a feature of Porto Moniz.

DAY 5

A super day of cycling around Madeira's west coast, from Porto Moniz to Calheta.

Cycling straight from the hotel today, the road climbs steadily for the first 12 kilometres with increasingly impressive views of the west coast. You'll cycle through fragrant forests and through small villages and no doubt be stopping often, as around every curve there's another unmissable photo opportunity. Madeira's westernmost point is at Ponta do Pargo, where there's a prominent red and white lighthouse, and here you'll turn south, following minor roads that twist and turn above a steep coastal escarpment. There are several places, such as at Lombada dos Marinheiros, where the coastal views are spectacular. You'll overnight at the lively village of Calheta, which has a colourful yacht harbour and a beach filled with sand imported from Morocco. This former centre of sugar cane production has become a popular place for locals to meet.

DAY 6

Take in the sights on your final day of cycling along the south coast to Funchal.

Hopping on your bike, you once again follow minor roads that meander above the coastline, never straight nor level for long as you head towards the island's capital of Funchal. After 20 kilometres you'll be back at sea-level at Ribeira Brava where your route once again takes you uphill and away from the coast and then back to the clifftop at Cabo Girao, one of the most dramatic viewpoints imaginable. Here, a transparent platform, 580 metres above the sea, allows you to look down to a thin strip of farmed land at the water's edge. An intriguing stop for those with a head for heights. A long descent will then bring you back to the sea and onwards to your accommodation in the centre of Funchal.

DAY 7

Enjoy a day in and around Funchal. Return cable car ticket to Monte included.

We have included a bike-free day to allow you to experience some of the other attractions of 'fun' Funchal. We've also included a return ticket on the cable car that links Funchal with the suburb of Monte, some 500 metres up the hillside. Monte is a great place to do some exploring - you can visit the pilgrimage church, Nossa Senhora do Monte and the Monte Palace tropical garden. Another attraction is undoubtedly the Monte Toboggan run, where you can get whisked away to the city in a large wicker car on two skis, accompanied by two 'carreiros' in their traditional white uniforms and straw hats. As another option, you could take a walk beside one of the 'levadas', Madeira's famous irrigation channels. You'll soon learn that Madeira is a lot of fun without a bike, too.

Meal Plan

This trip is on a bed and breakfast basis to allow you the opportunity to enjoy dining in local restaurants.

Food & Water

Madeira's fertile volcanic soils and clever irrigation via the famous network of 'levadas' allow the islanders to grow a mouth-watering array of fresh fruit and vegetables. And, on top of that, there's a tasty selection of seafood brought to port each day by the local fisherman. This holiday is on a bed and breakfast basis allowing you to sample all the great tastes the island has to offer.

The island has many fantastic seafood restaurants serving delicacies such as grilled limpets fresh from the grill served with garlic butter, lemon and local bolo do caco (a typically Madeiran flat round bread). For meat eaters we recommend sharing picado with your travelling companion; made with fried chunks of beef, garlic and red peppers served in a large dish surrounded by French fries designed for everyone to grab a fork and dig in.

Food is varied and plentiful on Madeira and it's not just savoury dishes the Madeirans excel at. Across the island you will find bakeries filled with delicious treats to satisfy any sweet tooth including the traditional Portuguese tarts pastel del nata and bolo de mel, a honey cake traditionally eaten at Christmas time. And let's not forget the aperitif for which the island is famed- Madeira Wine. The fortified wine comes in many forms from a sweet dessert wine to a dry aperitif making the perfect end to an evening meal or a souvenir to remember a great holiday on the island.

Water is drinkable from the taps on this holiday. Please fill your personal bottles for your day in the morning. We do not encourage the purchasing of single use plastic bottles.

Special Diets

Whilst we can cater for vegetarians, albeit sometimes with a more limited choice, we cannot always provide special diets. Due to the nature of some of the trips that we operate and the countries in which we operate them, it can be very hard (and sometimes impossible) to cater for a wide range of dietary choices and you may have to supplement your diet with food/snacks from home. If you have specific dietary requirements please do speak to our sales team and they will be able to advise you whether or not we will be able to offer your specific choice. Please note that we are unable to provide separate menus and cannot accept liability for any problems arising from special dietary requirements or intolerances.

Accommodation

We have handpicked a great range of 4* hotels for your trip, you will also spend one night in a family run 2* hotel in Porto da Cruz. Each hotel has been specially chosen for its great location and warm hospitality. All of the hotels offer something different such as wellness centres, pools and cosy bars perfect for relaxing after a busy day walking on the island.

All of our hotels offer a great breakfast buffet to fuel you for the day ahead and are in close proximity to many bars and restaurants where you can enjoy a traditional Madeiran meal.

It is possible to arrange additional nights accommodation if you would like to extend your time on the island. Please speak to our sales team for more information.

Bike Hire

The bikes provided for this trip come in two different frame types- unisex or male bike frame. Unisex bikes being provided for passengers up to a height of 185cm and male bike frames are provided for those above 185cm. If you would prefer a specific frame bike i.e. a male bike frame, please request this with our sales team.

You also have the option of upgrading to bike plus hire on this trip for a supplement of £70. The bike plus option provides a slightly sportier sitting posture and comes with upgraded items such as 27 gears, hydraulic brakes and a front suspension fork. This is a great option for those looking for a slightly comfier ride without upgrading to an e-bike for a supplement of £250.

We strongly recommend that you wear a helmet at all times when on the bike. You can either bring your own - which we recommend - or you can purchase a helmet to collect on your arrival in Canico for an additional €40.

We also suggest you consider packing a gel seat for extra comfort or a pair of padded cycling shorts, whilst you will be riding at your own pace and there will be plenty of opportunities to stop and explore, it is always nice to have some padding for a comfortable ride.

Currency

The currency for part or all of this holiday is the Euro.

Preparing for your Holiday

The advantage of a self-guided cycling holiday is that you decide the pace. This trip is designed for regular cyclists as some of the included day-rides are decidedly hilly. You should be comfortable with cycling 40-50 kms a day on quiet rural roads and short connecting sections on busier roads. It is a good idea to get some additional exercise before going on an active holiday and you should make sure you head out on a few rides before your trip. After all, the fitter you are the more enjoyable your cycling will be.

Climate

Madeira has a mild sub-tropical climate, with the Gulf Stream ensuring pleasant temperatures all year round. The warmest months are July and August with maximum temperatures around 26-27 °C, whilst in February and November it is just a little cooler at 18-20 °C. Madeira generally has sunshine all year around, with May through to September being the driest months and seeing very little rain. October through to March can be wetter, but with still just an average of 6 days of rain per month. Of course, there would be no beautiful greenery on Madeira without a little rain.

We receive regular updates direct from the FCDO and are in constant touch with our contacts on the ground. If you have any questions about government travel advice, please call our office.
